Use Charge on Sanitary Board Agenda Thursday

Thursday is the date set by the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's board of directors for a hearing on the new use charge, District Ordinance 37.

Persons who attended the board meeting last Thursday evening were advised by Secretary Claude McPhee the use charge would not be discussed at that time.

Gerry Horstkotte, district manager-engineer, reported 35 letters of protest have been received by the district, and that replies are being prepared. He asked the directors to take positive action, to enable the district to give definite answers to protests.

HORSTKOTTE said non-profit organizations have been surveyed and a report will be made at the April 21 meeting.

During the matters from the floor period, President Richard Mitchell reminded those present that the board "would prefer" to wait until the following meeting to bring up the use charge.

In reply to the district's demand for performance to the bonding company with respect to the M. Miller Company's unfinished work on the outfall sewer line, the Traveler's Insurance Company said the contractor had gone beyond his obligation in his attempt to complete the job.

THE INSURANCE company declined to respond to the demand, holding that the bond is no longer applicable. The company charged the district was amiss in furnishing new designs, that the district's methods were inadequate and the contractor frustrated. The company said it was impossible to continue owing to sub-surface conditions.

The unfinished outfall sewer line is located between the Arnold Highway and Suisun Bay. John Bohn, counsel for the district, said the board could proceed without the complications of normal bidding.

The district will issue informal invitations to contractors to bid on the job, and bids will be received during the day Thursday.

PERMITS were issued to the five garbage disposal service companies now serving the area, and the present rates were approved. These companies were found by the board to be "very adequate" in meeting the requirements of Ordinance 34.

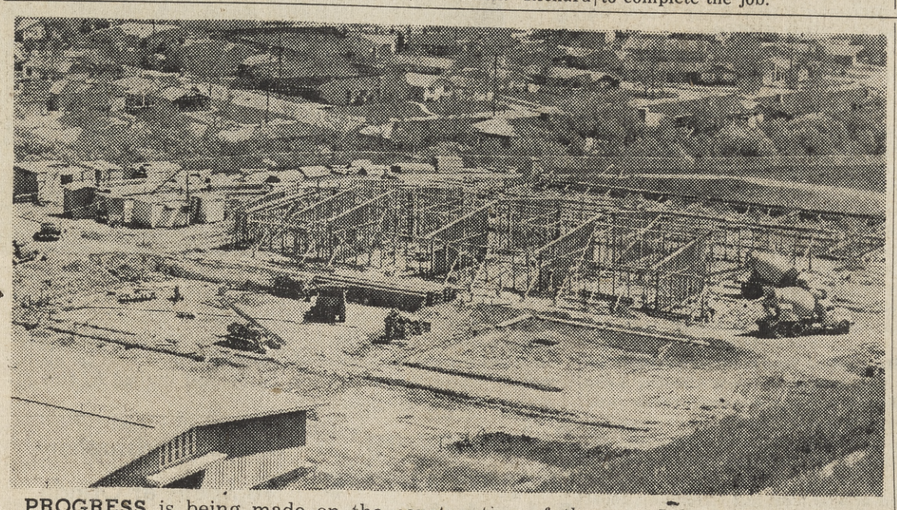
Concord attorney Samuel Conti, representing the Concord Disposal Service, raised the question of whether, in the event Concord annexed adjacent property, the district's or the city's services would be used. The board replied that the hypothetical situation would probably not arise, and that the question was not germane to the present discussion. They said the permits are not permanent and are non-exclusive.

Other attorneys at the meeting consulted with Bohn on the interpretation of industrial waste, and were assured industrial waste is excluded from the ordinance.

DIRECTOR Irving Roemer advised the board he had received a petition from 41 Lafayette citizens, protesting the proposed center planting strip to be installed along Mt. Diablo Boulevard in the downtown Lafayette area.

The petition cited the possibilities of traffic problems, loss of business, and loss of valuable parking space, should the planting strip be installed.

Roemer said these protests should be placed with the county department board of public works, since the sanitary district has no power to decide the question.



PROGRESS is being made on the construction of the new Inland Valley Intermediate School as contractors this week raised the first building skelenton on the site. The new seventh and eighth grade school, which will relieve some of the attendance load at Pine Grove School and help eliminate double sessions, is expected to be completed in time for the opening of school in September. The buildings are located on the same site as the recently completed Inland Valley Elementary School. —Sun photo by Dave Ogden.

Pine Grove Decision Due Soon

County Committee Plans Fight for Walkway Areas

By LARRY GLAZIER

When the County Board of Supervisors finally conducts its hearings on the proposed new county subdivision ordinance later this month, at least one group will be on hand to renew a three-year-old battle.

The group is the County Student Protection Committee, composed of representatives from parents' organizations, the California Highway Patrol, the county public works department and other county offices.

Specifically, the committee is interested in having the new subdivision ordinance, in the process of revision the last three years, include a requirement that all new subdivisions have pedestrian areas set aside.

MRS. NORMAN L. Hawkins Jr., safety chairman of the 32nd District of the PTA, including all of Contra Costa County, and chairman of the student protection committee, recalled that the group's initial request was for a requirement that a walkway, trail or sidewalk be included in all subdivisions with lot sizes up to 22,000 square feet. This would include lots of half acre sizes.

The first draft of the new ordinance calls for concrete sidewalks in all subdivisions with lot sizes up to 10,000 square feet, where the street connects with a county road within half a mile of a school or a school site.

Supervisors were to have held an afternoon-long hearing on the new ordinance late last month, but a 30-day delay was granted at the request of the Home Builders Association. The hearing now will be held April 26.

THE HOME builders originally asked for a three-month delay on the grounds that they had not had sufficient time to study the proposed ordinance, but supervisors denied this request.

Mrs. Hawkins said this week she expects the home builders to oppose the inclusion of the "school site" requirement for walkways, but she explained the student protection committee will merely restate its stand of three years ago.

She stated, "The present draft of the ordinance is substantially less rigid than what we had asked for, but it is more than the existing ordinance provides for."

THE COMMITTEE chairman noted that such a requirement in the new ordinance will eliminate the necessity for providing pedestrian walkways for school children at a later date, and thus will save county funds.

The necessity for pedestrian walkways within residential areas, particularly in the vicinity of schools, was one of two major problems pointed out in the student protection committee's recent report to the supervisors.

In the report, which asked for a county allocation of $30,000 in the 1960-61 budget for the elimination of student pedestrian hazards, the committee explained that many areas within the county now are faced with the problem of providing pedestrian walkways where residential properties have already been improved.

THE OTHER phase of the committee's report stressed the problem of the lack of road shoulders where the roadway was so narrow as to constitute a serious traffic hazard to children walking to and from schools.

Mrs. Hawkins distinguished between the two problems by noting that the county's $30,000, if allocated, would be used largely for the construction of new road shoulders, whereas the walkway situation would have to be improved principally by local property owners and homeowners' associations.

As examples of shoulder-less roadways, Mrs. Hawkins listed the Lower and Upper Happy Valley Roads areas of Lafayette, Springhill Road in Lafayette, El Nido Rancho Road in Lafayette and Boyd Road, Oak View Road, Gregory Lane and Pine Hollow Road in Pleasant Hill.

SHE SAID the county has already expended $5200 in shoulder improvement on Tice Valley Boulevard between Lafayette and Walnut Creek on just such a problem.

The walkway problem, on the other hand, exists in nearly all present subdivisions throughout the county, Mrs. Hawkins declared, but some local groups are taking steps to improve the situation.

She cited the Acalanes Valley Improvement Association, under Fred Pflugfelder; the Fair Oaks School PTA, under Mrs. W. R. Parker; the Pleasant Hill School PTA, under Mrs. Howard Winfield; and the Springhill Road-Black Hawk Road area, as groups which have installed three-foot gravel walkways within the last year.

THE HAPPY Valley Improvement Association last month announced plans to construct a three-foot walkway from the Vallecito School around the valley and to the intersection of Happy Valley Road and Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Last week, Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer and secretary of the student protection committee, called attention to Sections 69 through 71 of County Ordinance 1000, which allows for the county's retention of rights-of-way from the curbline inwards on every residential property.

The ordinance prohibits the planting of hedges, shrubs or any object except lawns on this county right-of-way, and requires that the right-of-way be kept free for pedestrian traffic.

MRS. HAWKINS reiterated Kermit's remarks, stating that gravel walkways, in keeping with the landscape motif of the property, can be placed on the land.

She added that the student protection committee's only object in fighting for the walkway provision in the subdivision ordinance is to make uniform a requirement for the pedestrian areas. In this way, Mrs. Hawkins concluded, the problem which now exists could never multiply again.

Without enforced walkways in the residential areas, children on their way to and from schools are forced into the vehicular portion of the streets by hedges or shrubs which extend to the curblines of residential properties.

McBrien Urges No Civil Fees For Sheriff

Contra Costa County Administrator Joseph P. McBrien has recommended that the board of supervisors require Sheriff Walter Young to turn over civil fees and mileage to the county.

He also recommended all constables and marshals be integrated into the sheriff's office and be assigned the job of serving all civil papers. That duty is now split between the sheriff's office and the constables and marshals.

THE RECOMMENDED changes would bring an end to the practice of constables retaining civil fees and mileage and of marshals retaining mileage. All constables and marshals would be appointed constables and marshals rather than elected.

Reviewing job scope and responsibility, McBrien said marshals are about on a par with sheriff's sergeants, but receive $10,860 to $15,165, compared to a sergeant's top salary of $7356. He compared constables to deputy sheriffs who earn a top salary of $6360.

McBrien suggested the board should adopt an equitable compensation system throughout the county. He said the county should operate all vehicles used by the sheriff's department including an auto to be assigned to the sheriff himself. These would replace vehicles which Young owns:

HE SAID that in the case of marshals, county - owned autos should be assigned in place of privately owned autos. County owned autos should be assigned to constables in heavily populated areas and constables in less populated areas should be reimbursed for mileage actually traveled.

Last month Sheriff Walter Young collected $1414.39 in fees and mileage for serving civil papers, the greatest amount he has received for the service in any month since taking office in January, 1959. Added to his salary of $1,050, the fees and mileage warrants brought his income for March to $2464.39.

Star of Hope Story Told

Guest speaker at the Orinda Rotary Club on Wednesday was John McConnell, a former North Carolina newsman.

McConnell discussed the "Star of Hope" project for which he is seeking to create greater interest. The Star of Hope is a non-profit organization set up to promote the launching of an illuminated satellite under international auspices as a symbol of peace.

It would contain on microfilm the signatures of countless people throughout the world. McConnell is starting a weekly paper in Mountain Viey primarily to support the project.

Retail Business Ordinance Is New Zoning Tool

A new zoning tool has been placed in the hands of homeowners and civic organizations with the adoption of the retail business ordinance by the county.

Although the ordinance is only "working" at present in Pleasant Hill, it is actually in force in the entire unincorporated area of the county.

This ordinance, which spells out in greater detail than the former business zoning ordinance what may or may not be located in a retail business area, will provide one more link in the chain of control available to residents in their own community.

SEE EDITORIAL SECOND SECTION

ADOPTION of the new retail business ordinance and the approval of retail business rezoning by the planning commission have resulted in considerable confusion in the minds of residents as to which is which and what is involved.

It was explained that the old retail business ordinance, applicable to all unincorporated areas throughout the county zoned for retail business, permitted all retail business, regardless of kind or description.

Compared to the neighborhood business ordinance, which restricts business to those strictly used by a neighborhood, the retail business ordinance was considered too broad for most areas of Pleasant Hill. However, under the immediate past neighborhood ordinance, some 25 businesses were operating illegally in the Gregory Shopping area.

UNDER THE new retail business ordinance, these businesses have won what was a calculated risk and are now operating legally. The new ordinance is essentially the same as the old retail business ordinance with the exception of certain restrictions not contained in the old ordinance.

Subsection 2. Uses requiring a permit, is basically where the new ordinance differs from the old. It reads, "Uses requiring a permit: In this district, the following uses are permitted subject to the issuance of a land use permit: (a) lumber yard (b) cabinet shop (c) sheet metal shop (d) trailer court (e) animal hospital (f) commercial dog kennel (g) hobby dog kennel.

(h) auto garage which includes body repair and painting (i) building contractor's yard."

THUS THE new ordinance is considered more workable for areas such as Pleasant Hill where retail zoning exists, than either the too narrow neighborhood ordinance or the too broad former retail business ordinance.

Technically the new retail business ordinance is applicable to all unincorporated areas in the county, however, it is believed that a trial period in Pleasant Hill of about a year will take place before it is enforced elsewhere.

The rezoning of certain areas in Pleasant Hill from neighborhood to retail business is action unrelated to the retail business ordinances.

THE FORMER is localized, the latter applies to any unincorporated area in the county that is zoned for retail business, including areas that are now or will be zoned as such in Pleasant Hill.

In effect, the retail business ordinance controls what can or cannot be established in a retail business zone, provided that retail business zone is in an unincorporated area.

Orindan Wins 2nd Place In Name Contest

A. R. Yriberri, 4 Keith Drive, has been awarded second place in the contest to name the Oakland Raiders, the Northern California entry in the new American Football League.

The football team yesterday announced it would bow to the strong tide of public opposition to the original name, Seniors, and renamed the club the "Raiders."

A total of 26 persons submitted the new name in the original contest, and Yriberri receives a trip for two to Los Angeles for a Raider-Charger football game. First place went to Kendrck Martin of Hayward, who receives a trip for two to Acapulco.

Winners were selected on the basis of their 25-word explanation for choosing the name.

Local Boy Gets Lost For Night

An 11-year-old Orinda boy was unharmed last weekend despite an overnight ordeal at Uinecrest, east of Sonoma.

The boy, David Fayram, son of Mrs. R. A. Fayram of 81 Sleepy Hollow Lane, was on a campout near Pinecrest with a local YMCA group Saturday night when he apparently took a wrong turn while returnng to the camp from nearby Strawberry Lake.

He spent Saturday night in the woods while five adult advisors, a deputy sheriff and a dozen volunteers searhed the area most of the night.

At first it was thought David might have drowned because a small boat in which he had been riding was found drifting on the lake with its oars missing.

The search party was about to drag the lake when David trudged back to the camp Sunday morning. He said he had spent the night on a rock.

Orinda Assn. Weighing Office Development Plan

The Orinda Association board of directors probably will make a final decision on whether to approve the Bayshore Construction Company's plans for the Pine Grove property by their April 25 meeting, it was announced this week.

Vic Kingston, association president, said after the group's planning committee discussed the Pine Grove proposal Monday night, "We are in no position to make a decision at the present time." He said the committee has taken the matter under advisement.

Bayshore Construction owns the 10½ acre property on the northeast corner of the Crossroads and proposes to construct a community of modern, ranch-type business and professional offices on the site.

THE COMPANY'S proposal was endorsed in substance last week by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, but Kingston reported the owners are asking for about five variances, which were not discussed at the chamber meeting.

Members of the association's planning committee were to have visited the site with representatives of the Bayshore firm to make further studies of the proposal.

The association's civic affairs committee will discuss the matter at its regular meeting in the Orinda School at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Kingston reported, and the group's directors have a meeting scheduled the following week.

FIVE YEARS ago, the association opposed the Pacific Intermountain Express Company's plans to develop main offices on the Pine Grove site. The controversy over the PIE development raged in the community for more than a year before the express company dropped its plans and sold the property.

The new proposal calls for ranch-type administrative, professional and business office buildings with a high degree of landscaping and adequate parking.

Officials of the construction company said last week they hope to begin construction within 90 days.

Parents' Group To Explore Great Books Course

The possibility of offering a Great Books discussion group to high school students will be explored Monday by the Miramonte Parents' Club, school and community welfare committee.

Mrs. Dorothy Parker of Berkeley, representative of Great Books, will speak at the regular meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Anders Hartanov, 151 Camino Don Miguel.

"THIS MEETING is one of several discussions on the possibility of establishing a humanities seminar," said Mrs. Richard Leland, chairman of the mother's group, who helped in the organization of the Miramonte Science Seminar last fall.

"There has been much interest in the community in the opportunities which can be offered to students with interest and ability in the fields of the hunamnities. We have been unable to discover an organized pattern to follow as we had for the science seminar, and feel that we must be pioneers in this idea of using community resource people to work with the high school students."

MISS CONSTANCE Topping, former head of the English department at Berkeley High School and member of the California Writers Club will explain the encouragement given to students gifted in creative writing

Senior Girl Suspended For Drinking

A 17-year-old senior girl has been suspended from Acalanes High School as the result of a beer-drinking spree on the Lafayette campus last Friday morning, school authorities said this week.

The case was reported to the sheriff's office Friday afternoon by Vera Richardson, Acalanes dean of girls, and the girl appeared at a juvenile hearing at the central substation Tuesday.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES quoted the girl as saying that when she arrived at school Friday morning she learned that the senior class was going to have a beer party near the campus. She said she obtained one can of beer and drank it, and later bought two more cans from a freshman.

According to the dean, a report was made by a teacher that the girl was unable to walk straight and appeared to be intoxicated when she arrived for a class in the Acalanes library later in the morning.

The girl was taken to the dean's office and kept there while the dean attempted to reach the offender's parents. When contact was impossible and school was finished, the dean telephoned the sheriff's office.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES said the girl was cited for a violation of the state law prohibiting minors from having intoxicating beverages in their possession.

Mrs. Richardson said three full cans of beer were found in a bag in the girl's locker at school, and the girl's stories were conflicting.

Officers also reported that the teenager told them students have been drinking on the Acalanes campus for at least two years, and that between 12 and 15 other students had been drinking Friday, but she refused to name the others.

THE DEAN DENIED both charges, stating "I don't believe that drinking has been going on." She explained that various attempts were made before vacation started to find the other students who had been drinking, but school officials could find no trace.

According to the school official, the girl's suspension, which does not begin until Monday, is in keeping with State Education Code requirements. She said the code prohibits drinking on school campuses and subjects offenders to suspensions.

TRUE TO US in her fashion world & telling us of same was Altha McManus, first speaker for the Orioles series "A trio of treats & teas" at the Fellowship Hall that afternoon . . . With humor & warmth, Altha took her audience through the world of High Fashion in which she made her career for more than 20 yrs., part of which time she worked w/the beloved Madame Foley, designer for SF society.

THE NIMBLE fingers of Helen Garneau played tunes of the 30's & 40's at the piano & while Altha took time out to rest on her florals (the Marguerite print frock she wore was of her own design) petite Vera Bermer described the timeless creations —

Collector's Items in Jackson Square

SO TO FRIDAY: We still looked longingly in the garden but couldn't pass up the preview party for the posh Jackson Square Boutique of Design being christened by Tamara (Mrs. Perc.) Brown.

Invitations read 1-5 so we caught an early afternoon bus & shared the trans-bay trek w/Nancy Mulvany who was off to shop first, planning on a later arrival at 802 Mtgy. St.

OUR S.F. friends met us w/car & we found 802 just across the street from Ernie's Restaurant & up the street from that red & regal office, is it Mel Belli's or Jake Ehrlich's? We forget . . .

UP THE STAIRS of the beige brownstone, the second floor transformed by the touch of Tamara who found this haven w/skylights in an area where space of any kind, because of its sudden popularity, is at a premium.

Against the pristine look of white brick walls, arched windows draped in shirred chiffon silk, "COLLECTOR'S ITEMS" of exquisite taste artfully placed, a dramatic distinguished array of antiques, paintings, tapestries, etc. She'll deal directly w/the decorators, many whose studios are in the Jackson Sq. vicinity.

AT THE DOOR, a first Hello to Wayne Miller catching camera candids of the crowd . . . Perc Brown, genial husband-host, beaming broadly & making introductions . . . TAMARA in her element, introducing her mother. Who's excited? We all were!

Oooh & Aaah! Lola Poll & Muir Sorrick together . . . Virginia Gentry, Ruth Spight, the Dwight Chapmans in the early afternoon throng of well-wishers . . . A profusion of lilac & tulip blooms, red garnet roses in the Congratulatory bouquets circling the room . . . A MAGNIFICENT Ice Swan centering the table . . . Huge pink prawns for the dipping & finger sandwiches in their original round-rye loaf houses, a sumptuous repast w/vintage toasts. At the tea table, a Scandinavian Bridal cake, an unusual centerpiece, its sides festooned w/gay party poppers, its topmost layer adorned w/tiny U.S. flags which Perc proudly put there after removing the Danish flag which Tamara transferred diplomatically to our lapel.

Decorators, city & suburban friends . . . Lucille Lang & Janet Rupley dropping in . . . Madeline Bowron & Nancy Mulvaney meeting their husbands at 4 . . . Petite Tony Dalton testing the wonderful Danish woven-basket swing suspended from the ceiling . . . On its floral pillow casually lay a copy of Ludwig Bemelman's latest book.

NOTED SF AUTHOR Elaine Ryan on hand, ditto the Paul Ryans, the Kendric Morrishes, the Ritchie Smiths . . . Marian Hauerken solo, she & George at Apple Valley this week. Ruth & Mel Jacobus w/their dghtr. & son-in-law Joan & Pierre Pelissier, admiring the handsome game tables . . . The melting swan replaced by a fresh sculpture as we hunted our hat & prepared to leave.

Headed for the car outside, we glimpsed the discarded & melting swan in the alley-way . . . We were tempted to take it home to our city friend's small fry. So we did.

AFTER confessing our folly (riding around Jackson Sq. w/a Hot Swan in the car) we learned the fate of the other one.

Seems that one of the later guests took the OTHER swan across the street to ERNIE'S . . . where the dripping duck stood at the door for the duration of the evening.

Had we stopped in at Enrico's Coffee House before hurrying home we'd have seen the Gerry Pixleys who were resting after a rousing Bon Voyage bidding the George Dodges Aloha on the Lurline. Tempted to stow away at sailing bells were the Calvin Golds, the George Prlains, Jim Sweeney, Joe Duffel & SCADS more! Orinda Branch party — "A Night at The Red Mill," we'll save for next week —

ALL TYPES of returnable bottles were the treasure hunted last Saturday by members of The Bobolinks, a junior unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. The drive was held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. throughout Orinda, and proceeds from the collection went to the center. Matadors Host Meeting Of Foothill Loop Council

By JULE NOLLER

Miramonte was the scene of the April 6 Foothill Inter-school Council meeting. Presiding over the discussions among representatives from the six high schools was Mario Guarneri, F.I.C. president and also president of Miramonte's student council.

Acalanes, Las Lomas, Miramonte, San Ramon, Del Valle and Piedmont each sent representatives to the meeting, held in the school library.

Representing Miramonte at the F.I.C. meeting were Randy Chaman, junior representative of the student council; Tom Ferguson, junior class president; and Dick Stark, president of the rally committee.

Some of the unofficial delegates to the meeting from Miramonte's student council were Charlene Mossotto, Karen Rigor, Carol Gilmore, Ruth Thompson, Sally Spott and Linda Williams.

The topics discussed at the inter-school meeting were election of pom-pon girls and cheerleaders, student control, school carnivals and noon activities.

Guarneri feels that "The members of the council think F.I.C. is a constructive and worthwhile organization in that it gives the students an opportunity to get together and discuss problems arising in their own schools and also problems in the Foothill League."

Walt Altofer, a junior at Miramonte, will be sent by the Wheel Club to attend the Rotary International convention in Miami April 29 through May 1. This will cost the Wheel Club $400 and it is the first time a representative has been sent from Miramonte.

The A.F.S. Club is holding a fashion show at Sandy Buehler's house on April 30. The clothes will be donated by Ogden's, and the members of the club will be modeling in the show. Enrique Lopez-Bruno and Widi Caebani, Miramonte's foreign exchange students, will provide entertainment.

The Business Club, under its student board of supervisors including Saunda Thurston, Bill Van Voorhis, Karen Glasky, Lynn Bowers and Wes Beatty, conducted a door to door candy sale throughout Orinda during March and April.

This campaign will finance scholarships which the club will award to two of its members. They sold 240 boxes of candy which netted $80 for the club treasury.

The Walnut Bowl was invaded at 4:30 a.m. last Friday by about 100 energetic Miramonte seniors.

Hetty Dutra, Jim Carter, Don Minor, Jim Boyd, Pat Flint, Bob Hecocks, Diane Traverso and Suzy Eubanks were some of the bowlers who caught the management off guard in the early hours. After a few games, the crowd invaded Mel's for breakfast and then drove back to school.

The Senior Supplement, a magazine on the senior activities, has been keeping quite a few people busy these past weeks. Enid Hennessey, who is social secretary of the senior class, is editor of the magazine.

Seniors who are helping Enid publish this next summer are Katy Baker, Lonnie Anderson, Nancy Gocsh, Marsha Nicolet, Kathy Shurtleff, Ruth Thompson and Peggy Schevill.

Democratic Club To Hear Waldie

The Orinda-Moraga Democratic Club invites the resident of this area to meet their State assemblyman Thursday.

Assemblyman Jerome Waldie will report on the important special session of the State Legislature which has just ended. Such things as smog, capital punishment, the budget, the college master plan will be among the topics for discussion.

Waldie was elected to the Legislature in 1958. He was named "Freshman Legislator of the Year" by Sacramento newsmen and has been active on educational legislation.

Fisher Resigns From Sanitary District Board

Raymond W. Fisher Jr., 90 Meadow View Road, Orinda, has resigned from the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's board of directors to take an overseas assignment with Kaiser Engineers Overseas Corporation.

He was formerly principal engineer with Kaiser Engineers and was recently elected a vice president of the overseas corporation.

He departs Thursday for New York and Germany, to start work as project manager of a 100,000-ton per year cement plant. The plant is to be constructed for Mysore Cements Limited at Ammasandra, Mysore State, India. He will reside 80 miles from the project site.

Fisher tendered his resignation at last Thursday's meeting of the board of directors. After acceptance, directors discussed persons of their acquaintance who might fill the vacancy, and agreed to bring such persons informally to next Thursday's meeting.

Other board members are Richard Mitchell, president; Frank A. Salfingere, Irving C. Roemer and Ernest Spiegl.

Jan Miller Given AFS Assignment

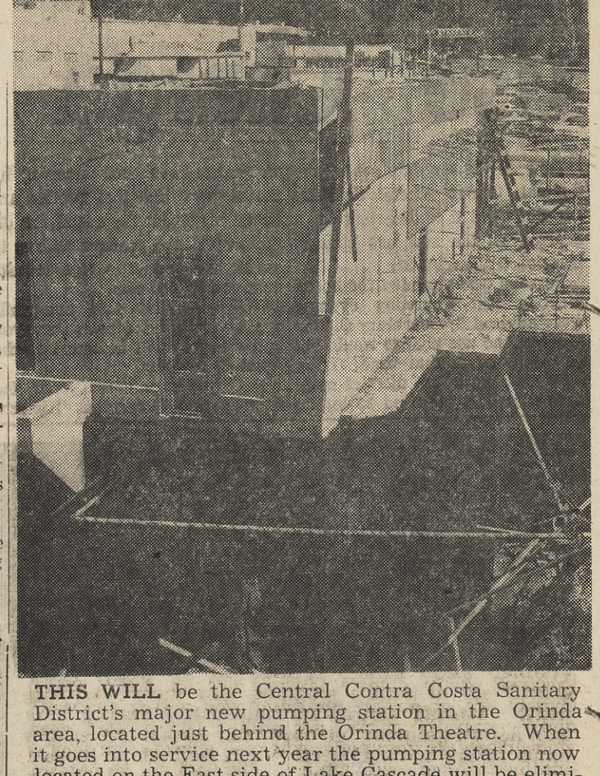
An excited girl in Orinda these days is Jan Miller, who has just received word that she will be leaving in June for Denmark, where she will spend the summer under the American Field Service International Scholarship program.

This is the first time that a student from Orinda has been placed in Denmark, according to Mrs. T. F. Mika, chairman of the Orinda chapter.

Jan, who is a junior student this year at Miramonte High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Miller of 15 Scenic Court.

She has a sister, Shawna, who is in the seventh grade at Pine Grove and a brother, Dirk, who is in the third grade at Glorietta.

Art is Jan's special field and she expects to major in it when she goes to college. She likes all sports and especially likes to play tennis and swim.



THIS WILL be the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's major new pumping station in the Orinda area, located just behind the Orinda Theatre. When it goes into service next year the pumping station now located on the East side of Lake Cascade will be eliminated. The larger station is needed owing to the increase in population.

Paintings on Display During Schools Week

A showing of paintings by the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society "Gallery left bank" will be held daily during the Public School Week, April 25-29.

Place will be the Walnut Creek city park, where the exhibits will include offerings of the adult education classes from Pleasant Hill, Mt. Diablo and Alhambra High Schools.

Close to 40 per cent of the entire output of the petroleum industry goes to run the nation's passenger cars, buses, and trucks, according to the National Automobile Club.

Mayor Christopher To Speak at Orinda

The Orinda Republican Women's Club is sponsoring an evening meeting Thursday at 8 p.m., at the Pine Grove school. This meeting will be open to all Orindans.

Mrs. W. Dorsey, program chairman, has arranged to have as the speaker of the evening Mayor George Christopher, of San Francsco, who will be reporting on his recent trip to Russia.

Mrs. James Seamna, president of the club, points out that this is an unusual opportunity for Orinda resident to hear an important report by an excellent speaker, and cordially invites all Orindans to attend this meeting.

THIS LADY may be $10 richer if she can be identified at either of The Sun's offices as this week's Sun Lucky Commuter. Central county residents photographed on their way to or from work who qualify as Lucky Commuters win $10 in cash if they are already subscribers to The Sun (Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette or Orinda Suns), and they may win $5 in cash and a year's subscription worth $3.75 if they are not subscribers. Easy, isn't it? —Sun photo by Dave Ogden.

Bus Rider Identified As Commuter

Identification as the Sun's Lucky Commuter meant an unexpected $10 reward for H. L. Hansen, 641 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette, who has been a Sun subscriber ever since he moved to Lafayette eight years ago.

Hansen is accounting manager for a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of California in San Francisco and commutes by bus each day.

The Sun publishes photographs of central county residents en route to or from work via bus, auto or foot, and if the published pictures are of Sun subscribers, the reward is $10 in cash.

If the Lucky Commuter is not a subscriber to The Sun (Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette or Orinda Sun), his reward is $5 in cash and a year's subscription worth $3.75.

Identification of Lucky Commuters may be made in person at either of The Sun's offices, 1001 Orchard Road, Lafayette, or 1320 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Home Builders Executive to Washington, D.C.

Ernest D. Holly, executive vice president of the County Home Builders Association, returned from Washington, D. C., where he spent three days in the National Housing Center conferring on the outlook for home building.

Representatives of some of the 343 local associations affiliated with the National Association of Home Builders, also were briefed on the outlook for home builder and home buyer by NAHB staff officials.

Holly reported that Nathaniel Rogg, director of NAHB's economics department, told them that 1960 so far has been and gives promise of continuing to be a good year, a prosperous year, with the highest levels of economic activity the nation has ever seen.

"It will not, however," Holly said Rogg told them, "be quite as good as most of the forecasts were predicting early in the year when the steel strike was over.

"But it isn't business that is in trouble yet—it's merely business forecasts.

"In some ways it's a nervous and hesitant economy. It presents the paradox of abundance together with uncertainty. It will be a year of growth and improvement generally."

School Board Clings To Stand On Fluoridation

A Lafayette parent and property owner raised the question of whether fluoridation information can be sent home with students at Monday night's meeting of the Lafayette School Board, but trustees held fast to their decision against student distribution of the materials.

The issue was raised by Robert Kahn, local business consultant and president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association, when he asked, "When does fact become propaganda?"

Mrs. Robert Adams replied that because the fluoridation material was connected with an election, the board decided children could not bring it home.

THE BOARD interpreted fluoridation material in the district's text books as educational, and held the material related to the coming election as "slanted information."

Kahn compared the situation to that of sending home messages urging Lafayette citizens to obtain Salk vaccine injections, and asked the board to distinguish between the two.

Mrs. Robert Brattain replied that when Salk injections were urged, citizens retained the right to choose between obtaining and not obtaining them. She said urging fluoridation on the people took away their free choice.

MRS. BRATTAIN did not comment on the fact that Lafayette citizens would still retain the right to vote "yes" or "no" when fluoridation comes to a public vote on June 7.

Chairman Boardman Moore said the trustees had carefully considered changing their position on the question, but they feel the original decision was just and he doubts they will rescind it.

W. B. Scarborough pointed out the job of the school district is to educate children and asked how far they should go in the education of parents. He felt the district should avoid involvement in other matters unless it can make a significant contribution.

Kahn commented the absence of criteria for making such decisions leaves one with a feeling of "uneasiness."

Ursula Junker

Requiem Mass was held April 12 for Mrs. Ursula Junker, 74, of San Jose, the mother of Mrs. Geraldine Chrisman of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Junker died April 11 in a Martinez Hospital. She became ill while visiting her daughter.

The mass was held in St. Mary's Church, Arrangements were by Hull and Sons, Walnut Creek.

Two Good Scouts Happily Put Day Camp in Order

By CONNIE PIKE

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Andrews, 3255 Alta Lane, Lafayette, are very good scouts. Since last summer when Mrs. Andrews, or "Mert" went to Twin Canyon Day Camp with her Brownie troop, the Andrews have been busily fixing things they thought needed improving.

It all began when Mert and her troop arrived at the camp on Springhill Road each morning during the session, and found the garbage cans tipped over. While busily collecting odds and ends and returning them to the cans, Mert's mind was collecting thoughts on eliminating the problem.

Result: Dr. Andrews built racks to keep the cans from tipping. But it was Mert's idea.

NEXT THING, the Brownies and leaders were thirsty. In previous years, you simply put your head under the fawcet and tried to drink, getting more water on the outside than on the inside.

Result: The Andrews installed 13 drinking fountains.

That was only the beginning. Local builder Jack Marchant had a fireplace built in the building the Rotary Club donated last year. Marchant also installed showers at the camp at no cost to the scouts.

With the aid of local insurance men and the Rotary Club, gravel was made available, and the two Andrews laid it neatly around some of the central buildings.

AGAIN, MERT made redwood signs for all buildings and units of the camp, routing out names on them with a drill press. The Brownies and Scouts can now find their way around.

On Mert's suggestion, Rheem's Machine Shop of Lafayette furnished steel plates for unit fireplaces to cut down on the draft.

A project which has continued for several months is tree planting. With the aid of Girl Scout troops throughout the council, 111 trees and shrubs of various types have been planted at the camp.

TROOPS ARE now raising 200 Monterey pines in gallon cans, to be planted when they are of the proper size. Scouts have also taken on the watering chore. Troops who have helped with the projects are Nos. 129, 173, 186, 319, 274, 384, 38, 136, 130, 105 and 277 and others.

Nurseries who donated the plants are Watson's Green Thumb, Wright Brothers, Pleasant Hill Garden Center, Morumune, McDonnell's, Harry's, Dave's Happy Valley, Orchard, Two-Pine, Danville, San Ramon Valley and the Village Nursery.

With all these strange goings-on around the camp, council leaders began to take notice, and soon Mert Andrews found herself named Camp Site Developer. Her husband is also Camp Site Developer, though unofficially.

WE MIGHT think the Andrews have no time for anything else, but the fact is they enjoy many hobbies. In addition to the camp work, they use their workshop regularly, and possess extensive photographic equipment.

On 1½ acres at their home, Dr. Andrews, an Oakland dentist, happily runs his tractor about, keeping the weeds down, and Mert takes a turn now and then. The whole family, which includes a third-grade Brownie and a 4-year-old future Cub Scout, like to gaze at the stars through their telescope.

They have lots of fruit trees, Mert said, and lots of animals.

"But no furniture," she added, laughing.

The couple have lived in Lafayette eight years. She is formerly of Modesto and Texas, and he is a Los Angeles native.

WHY DOES SHE do it?

Mert was a Girl Scout herself, for seven years. She has worked as a leader for three years, and owns a 10-year pin, awarded in January. She expects to lead her daughter's troop throughout their scouting career.

Mert says the benefits she derived from her youthful experience were of such value, she hopes to provide some of the same help to her Brownies.

She gave us a sketch of future plans for the day camp.

She and her husband would like to enlarge the parking lot and improve the campfire circle seating.

They plan to build an incinerator, and a new unit for girls which will be named "Maple." They'd like to repair some tables, lay 600 feet of water pipe to water the new trees, build new storage units and a barbecue pit.

She finished with a request for help. "Anything," she said. "Donations, time, labor — whatever you have to give—we need."

Palsy Society Starts Program For Handicapped

The Contra Costa Cerebral Palsy Society has started a program for the multi-handicapped children of this area who are both mentally as well as physically involved.

Up to this time there has been no provision made for these children to avail themselves of a learning or training situation.

It is the intent of this program to explore to the fullest the capabilities of these children and to help them to maintain performance at their highest level, said Mrs. Ted Wilson.

An initial group of children started recently at the New Shadelands School in Concord.

It will be conducted as a classroom situation from 1 to 3:30 p.m. for five days per week until the end of the current school year.

Resumption of the program in the fall will be in large measure dependent on the success of this venture, she said.

The class is under the direction of Mrs. Harry E. Brite of Pleasant Hill, who will be dependent on volunteers.

Veteran Reader Is $10 Richer

H. L. Hansen of 641 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette, was $10 richer recently after being identified as The Sun's Lucky Commuter.

Hansen, accounting manager for the American Bitumuls and Asphalt Company in San Francisco, a Standard Oil of California subsidiary, has lived in Lafayette eight years and has been a subscriber of The Sun for the same amount of time.

The Sun selects photographs of central county residents going to and from work via bus, auto or foot, and publishes these photographs in its Lucky Commuter series.

If the commuter is identified as a Sun subscriber he receives a $10 cash award; if he is not a subscriber, his reward is $5 in cash and a year's subscription to The Sun (Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette or Orinda Sun), worth $3.75.

Soprano to Sing at DV College

Carole Larsen, internationally famous soprano, will be featured at the Diablo Valley College Arts and Lecture Committee's first program, next Friday at 11 a.m. in the gymnasium.

The public is invited free of charge.

Miss Larsen received most of her musical training in California. She has established herself as a concert and operatic star in the Scandinavian countries before gaining recognition in her native land.

Having returned to the United States two years ago, she became featured singer with the Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir on their tour of the eastern states.

This was followed by a nationwide broadcast on the Columbia Broadcasting System Christmas Eve and her engagement as featured soloist at the opening of the San Francisco Symphony Pops concerts last summer.

$76,500,000 FOR RESEARCH

Since 1945, the American Cancer Society has devoted some $76,500,000 to cancer research. It is now contributing to the support of 1300 topflight scientists in 145 hospitals, universities, and other institutions. Working with these key investigators are some 3000 young men and women serving as technicians or being trained for larger responsibilities. Every phase of cancer is under research attack. The American Cancer Society needs the support of all if it is to continue and expand this intensive research program. Give to the 1960 Cancer Crusade.

Summer School Applications Being Taken

Application dates for attending the Acalanes High School District summer program have been announced.

High school and eighth grade students residing in the Acalanes district will be eligible for summer school courses on a "first come, first serve basis," according to Gordon Gibson, summer school principal.

Those who apply by the first application due date of April 22, will have priority in course selection.

OTHER PRIORITY application dates for late signups are May 13 and June 4.

"The later the date of application, the less possibility there may be for a student's inclusion in a particular course," Gibson explained.

Summer school will be conducted at the Acalanes High campus June 20 to July 29.

Students are required to take two classes. School will be in session from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. five days a week.

THE SUMMER school offerings are divided into three main areas: improvement review courses for students who wish to improve grades in subjects they have taken in the past; introductory courses for students who wish to improve grades in subjects they have taken in the past; introductory courses for students who wish to explore subjects they will be taking in their regular high school program in the future; elective courses for the student who may not be able to include some course in his regular high school program unless it is taken during a summer session.

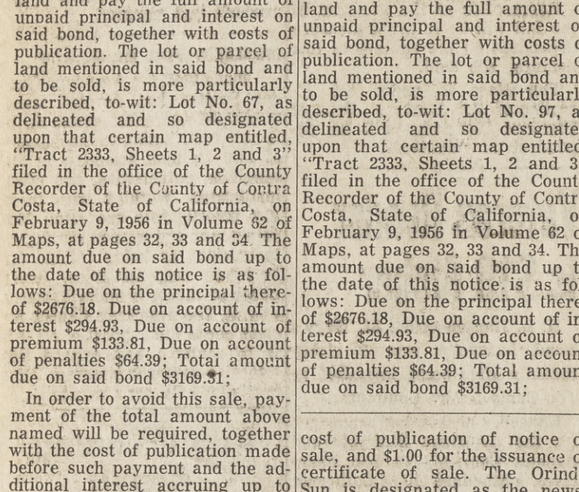
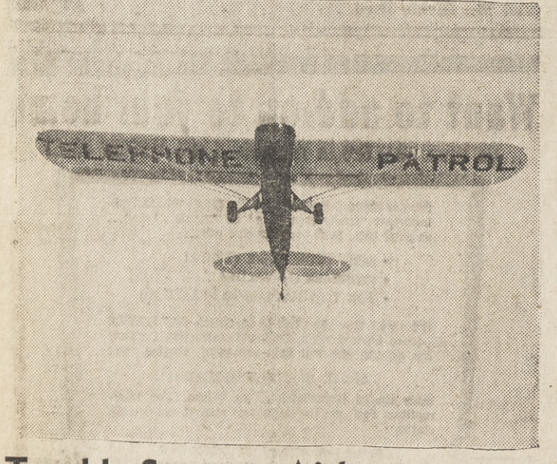
WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda



"Nebraska has no seacoast. The native Hollander wears wooden shoes." Sound like strange conversation? Bell Telephone Laboratories engineers don't think so. It's part of a test to lessen noise on your phone. These sentences are taped against a background of noise, then played over phones to listeners who rate how clearly they sound. Our engineers learn a lot from this test—another way we work to bring you trouble-free phoning.



Trouble Spotters-Airborne

The above picture was taken recently at Buchanan Field as one of the Telephone Cable Patrol planes prepared to make a routine landing. This is one of five planes used to patrol and inspect aerially the areas which have important telephone cables. Each plane covers 980 miles per day, reporting any activity in the cable areas which could lead to possible damage to our lines. At all times this patrol serves as the ever watching eye of the Telephone Company, helping to provide the best service possible without interruption.

Christian Science

Christ Jesus' teachings about the indestructible relationship of God and man will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science services.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill and Lafayette meets at 3409 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from I John (2:1): "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (18:1-5): "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage."

The closing Scriptural selection to be read is from John (3:17): "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

Crucifixes Are Shown At College

An extraordinary exhibit of sculptured crucifixes is currently featured in the St. Mary's College library as a part of the observance of Lent and Holy Week.

The 29 crucifixes displayed represent a wide range in interpretation, from the so-called "primitive," through medieval, to ultra-modern treatment. Media used to develop the sculptures include ceramics, wood, bronze, copper, brass, enamel on copper, and finally, plaster, wire and burlap.

The last-named, the work of Brother Kyran, F.S.C., who assembled the exhibit, "aims not at a literal depiction of the historical event, but rather as symbolizing the physical effect on Christ of those who now blaspheme His sacred name. The symbol chosen was that of tearing . . . that our blasphemies in a sense tear Him . . . and so the material chosen was a composite of shredded and torn fabric." The crucifix is mounted on a tree branch. Brother Kyran is head of the department of art at St. Mary's.

Some of the crucifixes in the exhibit have interesting histories. One was found in a burned-out Spanish estate in Southern California. Another, a 15th century German crucifix, was taken from a damaged altarpiece. The latter was donated by Henry Schaeffer-Simmern, director, Institute of Art Education, Berkeley.

The work of artists of many countries, the exhibit includes crucifixes loaned by Junipero Serra Shop, San Francisco; St. Mary's College High School, Berkeley, and the Junior Novitiate, Mont La Salle, Napa, as well as those from the permanent collection of St. Mary's College.

The exhibit will continue through tomorrow and is open to the public during regular library

A Little Cooperation, Some Money And Children Walk in Safety...

Which would you consider the more important, a shrub or a child's life?

The answer to this should be obvious, but sometimes there is cause for doubt.

An example of what can be done to provide safety for pedestrian children has been given by the Springhill Road-Black Hawk Road area where home owners have voluntarily given three feet of their property to be used as a walkway.

Furthermore, they have gravelled this at their own expense, thus providing a safe, comfortable trail for pedestrians through their area.

The Happy Valley Improvement Association is embarking on an ambitious project similar to this. This group plans to construct a three-foot walkway all the way from Vallecito School around the valley to Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Happy Valley Road.

These groups have become aware of a problem which is increasing each year — the problem of young children who must walk to school along our narrow roads — roads which are becoming increasingly congested as our population grows.

BUT THESE GROUPS have also shown us how we can do something — if we have an interest in our youngsters' safety and if we cooperate.

There is no reason why any group of homeowners, no matter how small, can't do the same thing that these other organizations have done. Of course there will be problems . . . What to do with the mailbox? How about all that beautiful landscaping that has taken years to grow?

The walkways can be built behind the mailboxes (that's where they should be anyway).

And let's face it! We just might have to transplant some of our shrubbery. But before we complain too loudly, we might ask ourselves which is the more important, a shrub or a child's life?

The county, of course, has an ordinance which allows for the county's retention of rights-of-way from the curbline inwards on every residential lot.

This right of way is set aside for the future construction of walkways and/or sidewalks. But it would obviously be a financial impossibility for the county to construct sidewalks throughout the county immediately, so the problem becomes a local one where the safety of children is involved.

THE COUNTY STUDENT Protection Committee, composed of representatives from parents' organizations, the California Highway Patrol, the county public works department and other county offices, is to be credited with working toward a solution to this problem also.

This group has already secured funds from the County Board of Supervisors to be used for a study of the county — a study which will detail the danger areas for future correction as soon as more funds become available.

But those of us who live on the winding roads of Orinda or Lafayette, or the hidden curves in some of our Pleasant Hill subdivisions, or the country lanes surrounding Alamo and Walnut Creek are already well aware of the danger areas.

AND WE, LIKE these other progressive homeowners, can solve the problem in our own area.

Here's A Useful Tool

The county has placed another tool in the hands of residents of unincorporated areas . . . a tool that they may be able to use effectively to control zoning and the development of their communities.

This tool is the newly adopted retail business ordinance.

For many years our communities, especially in Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga, Alamo and Pleasant Hill, have been developed around zoning laws and land use permits.

As any homeowner of fairly long standing in this part of the county knows, many a bitter battle has been fought in the halls of the planning commission and the board of supervisors over just what kind of business should be located where in these communities.

This ordinance should be especially helpful in those areas where residential homes border on business districts. Now, residents of those areas will have some say over what kind of business may be established in the "business area."

UNDER THE NEW ordinance, even though an area is zoned for retail business, certain kinds of business will be required to have a use permit before they may be established.

For example, permits will be required by such businesses as a lumber yard, cabinet shop, sheet metal shop, trailer court, animal hospital, dog kennels, garages, body repair and paint shops and building contractor's yards.

Previously, if an area were zoned business, nearly any kind of business could move in. Now, land use permits are required for some of the more noisy or possibly objectionable installations.

Suppose your home, for instance, were located next to an area zoned for business. This situation occurs in nearly every one of our communities.

IF AN INDIVIDUAL wished to establish a dog kennel just down the street from your home, you could appear before the county planning commission and object. The commission could recommend against a permit and the board of supervisors could then refuse to issue a use permit and the business could not be established.

Previously, if the area were zoned for commercial use, the county would have had nothing to say about it and you would have found a kennel right down the street from your house.

Technically this ordinance is in force throughout the county (in the unicorporated areas, of course) but practically it is getting a trial run in the Pleasant Hill area.

How well it works out there during the next year will determine to a large extent how much it is employed in the rest of the county.

But any way you slice it, it is one more tool that you, as a homeowner or your organization as a "community watchdog" can use to see that your area is developed along the lines that you prefer.

Here We Belong!

By JEAN JERNIGAN

California is wonderful! I'm in love with the whole big golden state, but in particular with our community. People in love often effervesce to the point of incoherence, but my love affair can be revealed in explicit detail.

It all began in March, seven years ago. Now March, to native New Englanders means one long miserable succession of days filled alternately with freezing winds, blizzards, or flu inducing thaws that make a mucky mess of streets, sidewalks and yards.

OUR FIRST March here was warm and sunny, the grass was green, flowers blooming, trees budding. It was paradise. No succeeding rains, floods, or landslides ever erased that perfect first impression.

Then we discovered the shopping centers. No more traipsing to the city with kids in tow, or frantically finding someone willing to cope with four while Mom and Dad left for endless hours of household shopping.

Inevitably we discovered doctors, dentists, x-ray technicians and orthodontists. Happily we found the best in medical and dental care was practically at our doorstep, not only for the human members of our family, but for our pets as well.

SUMMER CAME, and with it the best discovery of all. There's something constructive and fun to do all summer long, at practically no cost, for every age child and adult.

Prior to the summer school now held in most of our communities, there was supervised recreation at all school playgrounds five mornings a week. Add to this happy fact classes for youngsters in almost any sport or activity, and whoosh, the long summer suddenly seemed very short.

EVERY CHILD and adult has the opportunity to learn to swim, either through the Red Cross program or through the programs offered by the Park and Recreation Districts, at a low, low cost within the reach of everyone.

More than a thousand boys will be batting away on baseball teams though one or more planned boys' baseball programs. Tennis lessons, golf lessons, charm classes, dog training—you name it, you'll find it at your fingertips in your community.

Never having had the inclination for long vacation trip, well, let's face it, we had the inclination but children and animals just made it seem too complicated, we discovered a wealth of fun and interest within a few hours driving time.

THERE'S SMALL boat fun and water skiing on inlets and sloughs along the Sacramento, deep sea fishing off San Francisco, hiking and camping anywhere from a three to six hour drive. All kinds of vacation fun are near at hand and with a little planning an entire family can vacation without breaking the budget.

Our own beautiful Mt Diablo is a fertile field for fun. Anyone who has missed the breathtaking view of twinkling stars above and the panorama of twinkling lights below on a warm summer evening just hasn't lived.

Young parents with baby sitting problems can still enjoy "big city" fun, dining and dancing locally in one of the many fine restaurants.

Yes, I'm in love Anything our collective chambers of commerce have to say, I'll back to the hilt. Goodbye, New England, your changing seasons can't tempt me. Goodbye, deep south, you're honeyed drawl and high humidity leave me unmoved. Goodbye, midwest, your golden plains are only nice to sing about, and farewell, midwest, we have rain here too.

California, I love you.

We Like It Here . . .

An ode to a hat-- -- still to be had ! !

By MARIE MONAHAN

THE STORES are rolling out the mat. I'm off to find myself a hat.

So many hats are there to see, I'm sure there must be one for me!

I'D like to find a hat that fits —

That hugs & holds & sits like glue — so I don't have to pin it to my head or hair THROUGH my scalp —

In the manner that I sometimes DO!

THE HAT I find must snuggly settle like a lid that's tight upon a kettle.

A hat that doesn't have to go & blow away in Spring's first breeze —

Then have me down on hands & knees to rescue it —

Or skipping aft it down the street or biways — or flagging down the cars on highways.

A HAT that's faithful to the end, I want, a hat that's steadfast, like a friend.

THE hat I find must take a LOT & still not look like a french bean pot!

A hat that looks well on my noodle, that makes men whistle "Yankee Doodle" —

A HAT that reeks of Pedigree

Whose label shrieks "Le Derniere Cri!"

AH, such a hat. How MUCH a hat?

A hat that doesn't cost a ransom but still has style, is VERY handsome!

A hat that's magnetic & flamboyant, that perks my spirits, aesthetic, buoyant!

A HAT that spells Romance that lingers —

A hat that dispels sticky fingers such as when the tots bang ice cream cones against my head or jam-filled scones.

A hat Van Gough-ish, Voguish, chic! A hat that makes all men go weak!

NO, not for me a giant Geranium. (No garden freak will grace my cranium!)

Now THERE is one, I DO like that — a big black straw, a picture hat!

The one big drawback being that no one will ever find me — or ever choose to sit behind me!

PERHAPS that one trimmed with wisteria. ('Twould generate a Mob Hysteria!)

No Thanks, no hat all beads & spangly, with veil that twists & gets all tangly.

I MUCH prefer to try that dilly, the one that's like an Easter Lily . . .

A crown of Lilies of the Valley — a DACHE one, or one from Sally Victor or the house of Howard Hodge — so big that cars could dodge me should they come upon me. What's that? You wish to Mr. John me?

Ahhh . . . a hat to make me feel elated —

Emancipated, sophisticated. With floral bouquets so well arranged!

(Oh, NO! In THAT I look deranged!)

Oh, Dear! In some of these hats I wouldn't be found dead.

They're just too "square" for my round head!

OR is it the other way around?

For MY square head, none can be found!

ECONOMY

Dear Editor:

Thank you for the editorial support of The Sun.

A friend has sent me a copy of the issue of April 1, in which your friendly comment on my effort to effect economies in the budget of the Department of Motor Vehicles fills a column.

Perhaps you have seen the reports on the final budget actions, but I should like to have the pleasure of letting you know that the Legislature finally enacted the department's budget with the economies I originally requested.

I am sure that such strong statements as you published have great value to those of us who seek to strengthen the common sense element in government.

ROBERT McCARTHY,
Director
California Department of Motor Vehicles

ECONOMY

Dear Editor:

Your editorial concerning the McCarthy budget was forwarded me.

I am enclosing a copy of a resolution which was passed by our House indicating our displeasure with the action of the State Senate Finance Committee. (The committee refused to accept the economies proposed by the Director of Motor Vehicles for his department.)

I don't know the background behind that action, but I feel that it was totally improper and did a great disservice to the cause of responsible legislation.

With reference to the question contained in your column concerning the Assembly's action in adding 17 million dollars to the governor's budget, I am pleased to report to you that there were six out of 78 votes that consistently voted against each and every augmentation of the budget. I was one of the six.

I appreciated your column and trust that I will have an opportunity after this session to visit with you and discuss the matters of concern to you.

HEART DRIVE

Dear Editor:

In the 1960 Heart Fund campaign which has just been completed, the residents of our community again have demonstrated their confidence in the American Heart Association through their generosity.

Their contributions, and those of millions of Americans throughout the land, will assure the continued expansion of our research, education and community heart program.

This happy result could not have been achieved without the help of the hundreds of volunteers who freely gave their time and energy to carry on the drive. Nor could it have been obtained without the help of The Sun in reporting how Heart Fund dollars are helping every day to speed the control of the heart diseases here and everywhere in the nation.

On behalf of the Contra Costa County Heart Association, I want to extend to you, to our devoted army of volunteers and to all of the residents of the community our deep appreciation for this wholehearted and valued support.

We look forward to your continued help in bringing to the people of this community the latest knowledge about the heart diseases made possible through their support of the Heart Fund.

Under The Sun

Here Is a New Approach To an Old Problem . . .

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Jobs for teenagers, particularly in the summer, are very important. The reasons are obvious.

For some years, The Sun has helped young people find jobs in the summer through The Sun want ad pages. We give free "work wanted" classified ads for teenagers and you'd be surprised how busy some of them are from the ads. This, of course, is only a drop in the bucket.

Each community needs a complete program setting up a clearing house for teenage employment. In Walnut Creek, for example, the Rotary Club did a good job last year. The schools, clubs, churches and the community as a whole should work together on this problem. More about this some other time, but it is something we should begin to work on NOW.

I know there are never enough jobs for all the young people and for others the summer offers different opportunities.

Another good idea . . .

An outstanding program was developed last summer in Orinda. It is the "Career Exploration Course," which could very well be used in all our communities in the future. Let me tell you about it?

What is the Career Exploration Course?

C.E.C. is a pilot program set up by the Acalanes High School District to provide the opportunity for students at Miramonte High to work, with trained supervision, in a business, professional or industrial establishment for the purpose of ascertaining their suitability for the occupation thus explored. The work world becomes their laboratory.

Student compensation?

Since a maximum of educational experiences will be provided, the student will work without pay. It is hoped that five semester credits will be given for completion of this course in the 1960 Summer School.

What is its purpose?

1. To provide a realistic exploration of the student's choice of career.

2. To give the student a first-hand knowledge of what the world of work means.

3. To provide a constructive outlet for energy — prevent juvenile delinquency.

4. To establish better youth-community relations.

Who is eligible and how are students selected?

Anyone who will enter Miramonte's junior or senior classes in the fall of 1960 may apply. Also, students who are graduating in June 1960 may apply though priority will be accorded undergraduates. A total of 50 students will be selected on the basis of an interview, evidence of aptitude and interest in the field of their tentative choice of occupation, and a maturity equal to the demands of the course.

Approval of parents is necessary and students must abide by the program code.

When and how long?

What are the requirements?

The first week of summer school (June 20-25) will be taken up with a career choice class from 9-11 a.m.

From June 27 to July 29 the student will report to his place of work each weekday morning from 9 to 12.

Weekly supervision will insure non-exploitation of the student. Each student will keep a work diary and will be asked to evaluate his experience at the program's conclusion.

How is C.E.C. administered?

The Acalanes High School District is using this as a pilot program in its 1960 Summer School. It is hoped that five semester credits will be given upon its completion.

Mrs. E. L. Chilton will be this year's coordinator and will work with a Citizens' Advisory Committee, which is vital to the success of the program.

Excellent opportunities

Some of the reports from last summer have been excellent. One student, for example, was given the opportunity to work with a scientist and received tremendous inspiration and experience.

This program needs the cooperation of the community to be successful. It looks wonderful to me. I hope it can be expanded in the future to other high schools in this and other districts.

Here Are More Letters to the Editor

CUT TAXES

Dear Editor:

The "Under The Sun" column recently acknowledged the need for cutting the budget, if possible, in all of the various districts our taxes feed into and support. We should go after the various boards of various districts, water, school, fire, flood control, etc.—if any waste of funds is being condoned.

However, when we look at our checks and the deductions, let us also realize that 75 per cent of the taxes are going for "defense". Defense from what? It is foolish to talk about civil defense in a future war, because there just isn't a defense with rockets capable of being delivered in 12 minutes, over the ocean.

Each day aircraft become obsolete and millions of dollars of tax money are wasted.

THE BRASS IN the Pentagon are always sounding the alarm for more money. Peace is no longer a dirty word and the sooner we urge our representatives to cut the budget for the armed services the sooner we shall save on our taxes.

I would not mind paying more taxes if the money were to go into projects of a worthwhile nature, ie, youth centers, mental hygiene clinics, nursery schools, scholarships, research on causes of cancer, etc.

So it's fine to call the local and state officials to task and to account in the matter of where our tax money is going, but it's also time to turn off the panic button simply because a general or an admiral comes up with a crisis.

Let's clean up the conditions in our county without tax dollars. Let's speed up slum clearance and clean up our polluted streams and smoggy air and overcrowded hospitals and schools!

Let's be alert to this waste going on in the missile development field . . . what are we going to do with the missiles and H-bombs if we manufacture a million of these items?

So, continue to ask us to check where there is waste in local and state government, but the big dough is being wasted by the federal government on rockets which become obsolete after six months and millions of dollars spent on their development.

THOMAS KENDALL

FLUORIDATION

Dear Sir:

What has happened to the good old American sense of fair play? Nothing, apparently, for from one end of our country to the other fluoridation is being defeated in better than 90 per cent of the referendums.

In California alone, there have been 30 fluoridation referendums in the past five years. Fluoridation has passed in only one small community, Los Banos. In all others it has been resoundingly defeated.

Consideration for one's fellows, for the rights and desires of each of us as individual human beings, decrees that no segment of the population can dictate to all the others.

Love thy neighbor — don't force fluoride on him, whether or not he wants it. Let him decide what medication he and his family should take, on an individual basis.

Follow the lead of fair-minded Americans from coast to coast—Vote NO on fluoridation June 7.

H. H. PUTNAM

FLUORIDATION

Dear Editor:

Richard W. Leland may have a paucity of proven allegations, but he surely wins the award for plenty of words.

His last paragraph of three lines sums up his whole argument contained in the first 12 paragraphs whose purpose appears to be sneering at eminent medical men through innuendos.

That last paragraph says, "Fluoridation of public water supplies is safe, effective, and economical."

Safe? Then why won't either the AMA or ADA guarantee it to be safe? Why is a prescription necessary to buy fluoride tablets?

Effective? Why have over 2000 cities in the U. S. dropped fluoridation? Why have 50 cities in California dropped, and voted against fluoridation?

Economical? Of all the water used daily, 99 per cent goes for domestic, institutional, industrial, flushing streets such as was being done in Orinda on Thursday, March 31, and etc. Only 1 per cent is consumed by the people. One-tenth of 1 per cent is consumed by the children who are supposed to benefit by it. Is this sound economics such as Mr. Silverman cries out for in his editorial of Friday, April 1?

I suggest that if Mr. Leland feels the urge to write to the editor again, he give more facts and a lot less semantics.

Now completing a two year term as president of the 32nd District Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Robert Adams of 3146 Maryola Court, Lafayette, may well be called the First Lady of PTA.

She has also served as president and first vice president of the Mt. Diablo Council and as recording secretary and president of the Montecito PTA. A member of the Lafayette School Board for six years, Mrs. Adams is deeply interested in the education of youth.

"TAKING an office such as president," she remarked, doesn't leave one with much time for other activities. As president I must work closely with health, safety and other county agencies."

Fortunately Mrs. Adams likes to write, for she said, "Some months I have to write as many as one hundred notes or letters, in addition to writing articles for the District bulletin.

An article she wrote on bond issues is now being studied by the Mt. Diablo Unified School District Board to aid them in planning for their district's bond and tax election in May.

Steeped in PTA as she is, Mrs. Adams still finds time to direct the children's choirs at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Actually her activities are well rounded, with both past and future including a variety.

"NEXT YEAR," she commented, "when I am through with my present office, I am looking forward to serving on the executive committee of the Contra Costa County Council of Churches." Pressure of other activities have prevented her recent participation with the Delta Zeta Alumnae group, however, Mrs. Adams was the charter president of the Diablo Valley group when it was organized.

Other activities have included the Pied Piper Nursery School, serving on the board of the Acalanes Community Concerts and working with Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

The Adams have three children, Elena 17, Robert Jr., 14 and Douglas 9½. Elena is a junior at Acalanes and an active member of the Junior Native Daughters. Robert is a freshman at Acalanes and already an accomplished pianist.

OF HER youngest, Mrs. Adams said, "He's a little imp, a typical American boy interested in all sports, but most of all swimming." She will take her second turn at being a den mother in the fall.

Members of the Sun Valley Community Pool, the entire family likes to swim. Summer and vacations they go camping around Tahoe where swimming, hiking and fishing fill many happy hours.

Trips to points of interest in California, including Disneyland, are other family outings. Mr. Adams is a tournament bridge player and Mrs. Adams frequently accompanies him on tournament trips. "Even though he is an expert," she remarked, "he's very kind and tolerant when playing with less experienced bridge enthusiasts."

A MUSICAL family, the Adams attend symphony and concerts when time permits. Mrs. Adams enjoys cooking and is noted for her applesauce cake and potato salads. Her family, typical of most young families, likes her spaghetti as their favorite dish.

A lady who has always tried to arrange her days so that she is home when the children get home from school, she said, "I feel by doing community work in a volunteer capacity, I can always be home when my family needs me. It is possible to tell co-volunteers one is sorry but one can't make it, where in other work this is not true.

MY HUSBAND and I," she continued, "have always tried to make every moment we spend with the children really count. One advantage of my PTA work has been the accumulation of a wealth of research material on almost any subject. The children know that whatever topic they are studying or doing a project for, that they are almost certain to find plenty of information here at home."

The family pets are three cats, one a distinguished 20-year-old by the name of Murphy. The second is their daughter's pet, and the third, an orange cat named "Pussy" was acquired by son Douglas when he drew the lucky (?) number one summer at the KEENLY interested in the education of youth, Mrs. Robert Adams has served PTA in many offices. Her son Douglas is pictured here sharing the wonders of his microscope with his mother and sister, Elena. —Sun photo by Bob Rush.

Mrs. David Humphrey, Danville, is president of the Mary Doyle unit which provides volunteer services and patient transportation as well as financial support for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

CHP Warns of Bike Dangers Along Roads

Fifty-four bicyclists were killed and 3450 were injured in traffic accidents in California last year, the California Highway Patrol disclosed today. The death toll was 17 higher than the 1958 total. "The figures become even more tragic when we realize that by far the majority of the victims were children under 15 years old," CHP Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden declared.

The patrol official called the increase in bicyclist deaths evidence of the need for extra care by motorists when driving near schools or wherever youngsters are gathered.

"Thousands of school children have a better understanding of the need for safe bicycle riding through the patrol's special school pedestrian and bicycle safety programs," Crittenden continued. "But children, like adults, sometimes make mistakes and frequently only the alertness of the motorist prevents the mistake from being a fatal one.

Almost Everyone Reads The Sun

A Wall Can Be Much More Than a Wall

When planting a garden wall—be it the wall of a house, a retaining wall or the board fence that marks your boundary line—you have an ideal chance to create something special.

Correctly planted, a wall becomes a back drop to the garden drama as it unfolds through the seasons.

We should mention in passing, however, that some gardeners seem to think the best wall planting is one that hides the wall.

THEIR CHANCE to use the wall as a backdrop for planting effect is thus automatically forfeited.

We believe that a wall is something to see. Against it, plants create patterns of interest, bloom stands out and visual enjoyment is enhanced.

What, then, should we plant to stimulate new interest in an architectural form that in itself may or may not be a thing of beauty. We checked the California Association of Nurserymen list and came up with a good many ideas.

First off, the espaliered plant seemed to find greatest favor in wall plantings because it offered so many variations.

AGAINST heat-catching walls, many of the edible fruits are first choice.

Apples, pears, citrus all lend themselves to espaliering, with their ripening fruit as an added attraction against the wall.

Liquats, also edible, are favorites as espaliers, their great green leaves standing out. They are less heat tolerant than citrus, however, if fruit is to be of first quality. Camellia, Pyracantha, and deciduous Magnolia all offer the gardener the chance to try his hand at espalier patterns.

According to the American Cancer Society, cancer is one of the earliest recorded diseases of man.

Long Blooming Borders of Color Can Be Attained

A border that blooms and blooms is not unattainable in California, thanks to our 12-month growing season. But unless the gardener is blessed with an unheard of greenness in the vicinity of his thumb, he has to be satisfied with something less than massed color from such a border. He must sacrifice spontaneous short term bloom for continued color over a long time.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggest we do this with a combination of different materials—with annuals, perennials, shrubs, not with herbaceous material alone as gardeners in climates with shorter seasons do.

WERE WE starting such a border at this season, we'd aim for a summer curtain time and plant accordingly. We'd buy a few husky clubs of field-grown delphiniums and combine them with some Red Hot Pokers in the rear of our border, not in rows but in groups of both together, each grouping set apart from the other. We'd clump a few blue Lilies of the Nile here and there with maybe some Fernleaf Yarrow for contrast.

This done, we'd turn to shrubs for added support — maybe the subtle contrast of English Lavender with its gray foliage, and foreground spots of color from a few miniature roses in shades to blend, not clash, with what we've already planted.

We'd count heavily in most areas on the newer shrubby Lantanas, which are quite dwarf and easy to keep that way with pruning. Good colors are now available.

MARGUERITES would give us color not only in summer but in the nearly 12 months of the year they bloom. And our foreground would have its share of annual Alyssum for a trim edging through many months.

As summer fades to fall, we can count on Aster frikarti to pick up and complement our yellow Marguerites. Where it's adapted, we'd definitely clump the lovely Bird of Paradise in our border, too. Check with a local member of the C.A.N. on this one.

And check with him on other fall and winaer color bearers to keep the border going. He no doubt has his favorites to recommend.

Dogwoods Give Air Of Delicacy

A single dogwood bloom, seen by itself, is not apt to start you dancing in the street. And the gardener who sees his first bloom on his first dogwood tree is apt to experience a momentary disappointment. "Is this what I've been waiting for," he asks, as the stiff bract unfolds.

As the tree continues to unfold its seasonal show, however, his tune changes to one of joy. "I've never seen anything like it. It's beautiful," he is likely to conclude.

FOR IN full bloom, his dogwood is a picture of delicacy—airy and gay, catching the light to form patterns of beauty unanticipated by the initial bloom.

We asked the California Association of Nurserymen why it is we don't see more of these delightful small trees in northern California gardens. We were told that we will see more and more as time proves their worth in our local growing conditions.

Being natives of the east coast (our own native dogwoods are seldom grown commercially), it took some time before gardeners learned just how to handle them in California's different climate. This despite a long record of performance in some California gardens.

WE KNOW NOW from our own experience that summer water and part or filtered sun are most conducive to fine results. Rich, acid soil is the other prime requirements. You can engineer the latter by working copius amounts of leaf mold and some peat into the soil at planting time.

Dogwoods bloom later in spring than many of our spring blooming shrubs and trees—after most of the crab apples are through and long after the deciduous magnolias. If you plant them in the garden, locate them with this in mind, keeping them to the front so earlier bloomers can be seen through their bare branches and so that bloomed out shrubs don't hide them with their new foliage.

Dwarf Citrus Is Successful in Nearly All Areas

Not many years back, a gardener who asked his nurseryman, "Can I plant an orange tree in my garden?" would get the answer: "I don't know. How big is your garden?" Today, thanks to the wonderful development of dwarf citrus, the answer is a simple, 'Sure you can."

And the best part is that the answer holds true even in areas where climate might ordinarily discourage a would-be orchardist who would like to harvest edible oranges.

IN COOL climates, members of the California Association of Nurserymen plant dwarf citrus up snugly against a south or west wall to trap reflected heat and compensate for any lack nature hasn't filled.

There are still areas, we have to admit, where all the heat you can trap is not sufficient to ripen a grapefruit, but then, the big ornamental fruit are so showy on dwarf trees it seems a shame to eat them anyway.

The propagation of dwarf citrus has reached a place today where your choice is nearly unlimited. Just about any citrus variety that is grown on full size stock is also available in dwarf stock. This includes several varieties of orange and commercial lemons, not just the more familiar dwarf Meyer lemon.

CROP SIZE is admittedly smaller on the dwarfs (you can't have everything), but the amount you can harvest often defies the imagination when you consider the size shrub it comes from. You won't keep a family in orange juice all year from a single tree, but you'll give them many a delicacy to munch on.

If you have room and hanker to plant a full size tree or two, by all means go ahead. As a backdrop, you'll have a hard time finding anything lovelier than a row of orange trees in full crop. And a single lemon can be a near year-round provider.

Dwarf Trees Answer for Small Garden

Few pleasures of the garden are more tangible than growing fruit trees. You not only see the results, you eat them. And what a treat.

Many gardens are just small enough, though, to discourage planting a home orchard of conventional-size trees — or more than one tree at best. Which is why members of the California Association of Nurserymen have so encouraged the development of dwarf fruit stock. Today you can have an orchard of varied trees in a limited space.

Also, it would be well to point out that the deciduous dwarf fruits are not as dwarf as their counterparts among citrus trees. They are not, as the citrus are, ornamental specimens that can be tubbed for patio decoration. Their primary function is to produce a lot of fruit in a limited space and this they do admirably.

Roses Come In Varieties

Rosarians are forever uprooting the old to make way for the new, and with the annual influx of choice introductions, they are forced to decide what goes and what stays. In every rose garden, however, there is a hard core of favorite old varieties which are not to be pre-empted by any newcomer.

The budding rosarian would do well to check some of these varieties for planting in his garden along with newer roses which are bound to land there. Accordingly, we asked the California Association of Nurserymen to supply us with a list of all-time favorites. The only requisite: The rose recommended must have been introduced prior to 1955.

Gardens Forget Winter Quickly

Comes an end to the dark days of winter, and with it the gardener's pulse begins to quicken.

The drabness which pervades most gardens during the rainy season is easily forgotten and new thoughts of color begin to take shape in his mind. He packs off to the local nursery to put his thoughts to deeds.

This is the general pattern of behavior, according to the California Association of Nurserymen, which reports further that some nine out of 10 who follow it will turn to annuals for quick fulfillment.

So if you feel the faint stirrings in your chest, remember that there's nothing like a flat or two of bedding plants to give your winter-weary garden a quick shot in the arm. And you can plant them as weather permits.

What's available this time of year? Well, for one there's Calendulas, which are guaranteed to chase the blues in a hurry. They may be old fashioned, but there's still nothing to match the rich yellows and oranges they produce.

Large Supply of Pacific Jumbo Primroses on Hand

The nicest thing that ever happened to primroses happened a few years back in the test gardens of a west coast hybridizer. It was the crossing of two parent plants that resulted in the birth of the new Pacific Jumbo Hybrids. It was enough to set primrose devotees to turning cartwheels.

Grown with care under garden conditions, Pacific Jumbo Hybrids sent up startling flower heads on which the individual florets were 2 to 2½ inches in diameter. And these ranged in nearly all the colors of the rainbow to complete the prize-winning appearance of the new border gems.

THE CHAIN that was to bring these beauties into general use was thus forged and succeeding links were soon to follow. A handful of specialists offered the new primrose to a select clientele willing to pay a premium price. Then as seed became plentiful, bedding plant growers started mass planting them.

Today, members of the California Association of Nurserymen can offer you the new primrose both as seedlings and as field grown clumps in full bloom. If you want something really special, we suggest you drop by a C.A.N. nursery for your own personal preview.

You may have previewed them last year, or even the year before in some areas, but this is really the first year there has been supply enough to go around.

IT SHOULD be emphasized that maximum bloom size with these new primroses as with every blooming plant will be determined by the care you give them. Some plants need no care for peak performance, but primroses like a cool porous soil, well enriched with leaf mold and perfect drainage. The soil should be moist, but not saturated. Exposure to sun will vary as you live inland from the coast. Best ask your nurseryman how he would plant them.

With such care, some gardeners — especially in coastal climates which primroses thrive in—will get blooms with individual florets nearly three inches across. If that isn't worth striving for, what is?

Grapes Are Good Cover

Grapes and berries provide the ultimate joy for the home food gardener. Or so it seems to us. What greater joy than to harvest a fat bunch of grapes or a bowl of berries? The appeal is universal.

Californians are fortunate, too, when it comes to growing these food garden favorites. Grapes thrive in much of the state and can be adapted to most areas if some basic cultural practices are observed. Berries are seen in gardens from border to border. They are best adapted in north coastal areas, but don't tell that to a berry-growing southern Californian. He won't believe you.

With young vines of either grapes or cane berries, the first season (3 years usually on grapes) is for growth—as much of it as you can promote through watering and feeding. In both cases, simply let the new growth sprawl on the ground.

Orinda Junior Tennis Finals Scheduled This Morning

Local Girls Reach Finals; Charles Trippe Defeated

The pride and joy of Orinda's tennis devotees, 10-year-old Lynne Abbes, displayed her best form in fighting her way to the finals of two separate divisions of the third annual Orinda Junior Tennis Tournament this week.

But because of Good Friday observances, the finals of both Girls' 11 and the Girls' 13 divisions were played yesterday and many Orindans missed her performances. Results were not available when The Sun went to press.

MEANWHILE, Charles Trippe, English foreign exchange student at Acalanes High School, was not so successful as he dropped his quarter-final match to second-seeded Barry Baskin of Pacific Grove Wednesday.

Playing before a packed gallery, Trippe, a former competitor in the Wimbledon Junior tourney in England, choked up and lost control of his serve as he was dropped from the junior boys' singles play by scores of 6-4, 4-6 and 6-0.

The tourney was Trippe's first experience in American sanctioned tournaments.

THE ACALANES exchange student, however, is still favored to win the junior boys' doubles, with his partner, Dick Stark of Orinda.

Boys' finals and doubles in all of the competition will be held on the Orinda Country Club courts this morning. The tournament is sponsored by the Orinda club.

One surprise of the Boys' 13 division was the play of unseeded Bob Martin of Orinda, who defeated fourth-seeded Greg Shepherd of San Francisco, but then lost to Bruce Gordon of Sacramento, the second-seeded player, in the quarter-finals.

ALL CHANCE for a triple win in Orinda's Abbes family was eliminated Tuesday when Leslie, the oldest of the three sisters, dropped her match to the surprising unseeded Pixey Lamb in the Girls' 13.

But the youngest Abbes girl, Michelle, won the Girls' 9 championship Tuesday afternoon by defeating Sindy Bridges of Sacramento, 10-8, in the pro-set.

Four Aces On Dons' Golf Team

The Acalanes golf team has the unusual distinction of having four members who have made a hole-in-one. Many play golf for a lifetime without accomplishing the feat, and the odds are that not another team in the country has such a record.

Steve Lamphere made his last summer on the fifth hole at the Forest Lake course at Hobergs, a summer resort in Lake County. The shot was 115 yards.

Bill Mackay made his last year on the 110-yard third hole at Meadowbrook.

John Holman banged his in on the 117-yard eighth hole at the Orinda club three weeks ago, while teammate Garl Childs hit the jackpot on the 115-yard third hole at the Diablo Country Club.

Glines Gets Cage Job At San Jose St.

One of the most successful basketball eras in Acalanes High School history came to an end today with the announcement that Dan Glines, the youthful coach who led the Dons the last three seasons, has been appointed freshman coach at San Jose State College.

The announcement said Glines, who will assume the new post September 1, will be an assistant professor in the college's physical education department and an assistant to head basketball coach Stu Inman.

Glines, a protege of Coach of the Year Pete Newell at California from 1954 to 1957 and a Cal graduate, led the Dons to two successive ties for the Foothill Division basketball crown.

Officials at Acalanes could not be reached for comment, and Glines was not at home.

Errors, Walks Help Don Nine Defeat Piedmont

The Acalanes Dons collected but three hits in a league game played with Piedmont last Thursday afternoon, but the Piedmont Clan contributed errors and walks enough to allow the Dons to rack up 10 runs over the seven innings played, to chalk up their third league win.

A pair of Don pitchers, John Paul Jones and Denny Toll, shut out the invaders as they turned a one - hitter. Piedmont's safe blows, which were both singles, came when Tom Rawley hit a single to center in the fourth while Don Mulloy blooped a single behind first in the fifth.

THE ACCALANES nine posted five runs in the third on one hit as a pair of walks along with two errors and two fielders' choice plays pushed the runs across the plate.

Acalanes added four more in the fifth with singles by Don Nelson and Lou Cosso along with a double by Jones doing the big damage.

Acalanes added their final run in the seventh when Nelson was on via the shortstop's error that brought him to second from where he stole third and scrambled home when Jones hit a ball to second that was booted.

ACALANES had two errors to the Piedmont club's seven. Three Dons struck out to 11 for the Clan.

Las Lomas Swim Team Looms As County's Best

The Las Lomas Knights under coach Ed Leach have built a reputation as the team to beat in local prep swimming competition, and this year appears to be no exception as they loom as the class of the county and are top-heavy choice to win the Foothill title.

Loaded with top talent in every race, the Knights boast a well-rounded team that will be difficult to handle when the blue chips are down.

THE KNIGHTS varsity has posted an impressive record with but two losses while the Bees have had but one setback.

The complete varsity record through last week is as follows: Las Lomas 557, Oakland 38; Las Lomas 62, Livermore 33; Las Lomas 41, Berkeley 54; Las Lomas 63, Oakland Tech 32; Las Lomas—first in Foothill Division Relays; Las Lomas 31, San Leandro 64; Las Lomas 69, Drake 26; Las Lomas 68, Alhambra; Las Lomas 72, Mt. Diablo 23.

The Bee record to date: Las Lomas 54, Oakland J.V. 23; Las Lomas 55, Livermore 20; Las Lomas 52, Berkeley 22; Las Lomas 65, Oakland Tech J.V. 12; Las Loman — first, Foothall Division Relays; Las Lomas 36, San Leandro 41; Las Lomas 43, Drake 34; Las Lomas 66, Alhambra 11; Las Lomas 61, Mt. Diablo 16.

Dual meets on tap for the Knights following spring vacation are as follows: Wednesday, April 20, Cal Frosh, there; Friday, April 22, San Ramon at Las Lomas; Wednesday, April 27, Pleasant Hill, there; Friday, April 29, Acalanes, there.

Wolves Hand Matadors First Baseball Loss

The San Ramon Wolves put the bite on the Miramonte Matadors as they used the home run technique to pin a 2-0 defeat on the Orinda club in a Foothill Division game played at Danville last Thursday.

The loss was the Mats' first in league play as they had chalked up three earlier wins and it threw them into a first place tie with Acalanes as both ended the first round of play with a 3-1 records.

A HOME RUN by second baseman Roger Ide in the third and another four-ply swat by catcher Barry Madrid accounted for the game's only scoring.

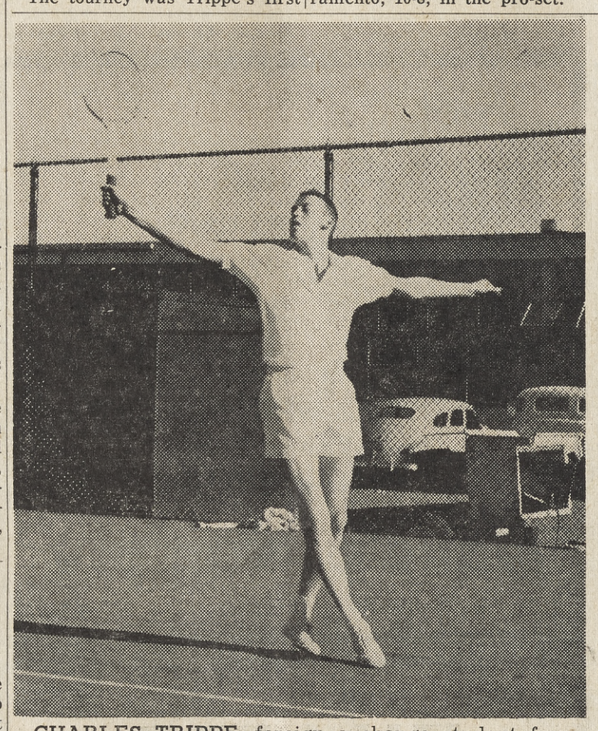
K. C. Evans, starting on the mound for San Ramon, got two out in the first but was in hot water when he loaded the bases.

Don Collar, sophomore right hander, relieved and stopped the rally as he shut out the Mats the rest of the way.

THE MATS got their only hit, a scratch single by Brad Peters off Evans in the first.

San Ramon had five hits and committed three errors to none for the visiting Matadors.

Batteries: San Ramon—Evans, Collar (1) and Madrid; Miramonte — Hancock, Tonascia (5) and Hilger.



CHARLES TRIPPE, foreign exchange student from England who is attending Acalanes High School, exhibits some of the form which he used in bringing him to the quarter finals of the junior boys' competition in the Orinda Junior Tennis Tournament. Acalanes, Miramonte Share Lead As Baseball Season Ends First Round

The Foothill Division baseball race is all tied up at the end of the first round of play as the Miramonte nine dropped their first game last Thursday when San Ramon spilled the dope bucket with a 2-0 win.

The Acalanes Dons and the Miramonte Matadors are now all tied up with 3-1 records at the end of the first round of play.

TWO MORE rounds are on tap and it still is anybody's pennant as the the third spot is held by a tie between Las Lomas and San Ramon, who are but one game out.

Inexperienced Piedmont has as yet to win and they are probably out of contention with four losses in a row.

To date pitching has dominated the scene as the hits have been for the most part on the sparse side.

The chances are that the club that comes up with some dependable hitting from here on in will win out.

THIS WEEK finds all competitive play at a standstill with play being resumed on Tuesday, April 19, when Miramonte and Acalanes play in the crucial at the Lafayette High School diamond, while Las Lomas plays host to San Ramon.

Standings at the end of the first round: Acalanes—W-3, L-1, Pct.-.750; Miramonte—W-3, L-1, Pct.-.750; Las Lomas—W-2, L-2, Pct.-.500; San Ramon—W-2, L-2, Pct.-.500; Piedmont—W-0, L-4, Pct.-.000

Don Track Team Wins Triple Meet

The Acalanes Don varsity track team came away a winner from the Walnut Creek oval when they scored 64 points to Piedmont's 54 and Las Lomas' 22.

The John Swett Indians of Crockett were on the warpath last Thursday as they rolled up a 79-34 score to defeat the Miramonte track team.

The Matadors' sole consolation came from the performance of Milt Hane and Jeff Neighbor as they finished first and second in the 880 with an identical clocking of 1:59.1, the area's best to date.

Brown, Ivaldi Win Bestball Title At Diablo

Diablo Country Club played the final 18-hole round of the bestball championship on Sunday, when a total of 54 holes was played.

The best round of the day was shot by Charles Gwynn and Terry Ring, who fashioned a bestball net score of 55.

Sporting Thing

"THEY WON'T CATCH THEIR OWN! THE BEARS IN THIS REGION ARE NOTABLY LAZY."

Knight Swimmers Down Red Devils

The Las Lomas swimmers stroked their way to a pair of wins last Wednesday when they swamped the Mt. Diablo High Red Devil varsity, 72-23, and made it a twin killing as they pasted the Diablo Bees, 61-16.

The Las Lomas varsity copped every first place but one in the lop-sided win.

First place winners were as follows:

400-free, Sands, MD, 4:56.2; 50-free, Banwell, LL, 26:00; 100-fly, Ostrom, LL, 59.6; 200-free, Matthey, LL, 2:13.1; 100-back, J. Strand, LL, 1:00.5.

Ram Thinclads Win Triple Meet

Paced by Tom Webb, who won the 100 and 220, and Roger Foulk, who won the discus with a fine heave of 157-6, the Rams posted 54 points to El Cerrito's 44 and Clayton Valley's 40.

First place winners in the meet were as follows:

Real Estate Viewpoints

Style, Fashions and an Open Letter or Two . . .

By BILL HAYWARD

ALL THE REALTORS IN THE COUNTY . . . as well as many of the Real Estate men and women of the Bay Area spent yesterday at the Berkeley Little Theater soaking up fresh information on selling techniques, finance wizardry, listing and merchandising methods, market trends and future expectations.

All this was planned and prepared by the California Real Estate Association under the guidance of the State Educational Committee. Your local Real Estate Board has been active in this program since its inception over 10 years ago.

Nationally known Sales Consultant from Columbus, Ohio, Fred A. Palmer was the featured speaker bringing a message of enthusiasm and good business for 1960 . . .

PALMER EXPRESSED the importance of each person in the Real Estate industry's need to keep up with the new methods of finance and new patterns of BUYER DESIRES . . . Our Contra Costa Real Estate Board . . . and all of its members subscribe to this annual "SCHOOLING" session almost 100 per cent . . . It was a tremendous success, according to R. Wayne Bailey, executive manager of the local Board.

IF YOU WANT TO SEE A UNIQUE AND UNUSUAL SHOW . . . plan to attend the Epsilon Sigma Alpha "ARTISTS AND MODELS" . . . a blend of Styles for the gals and fashions for the Men . . . The Diablo Art Association will present a refreshing new ART SHOW . . . Refreshments and Snacks from 4 p.m. Sunday April 24 until . . . Music and fun too . . . Elks Club . . . south of town a couple of blocks and up the very nice bridge to the left and there you are. Tickets are only $2.—a donation to the John Muir Hospital Fund a most worthy cause no less.

Tribune Editor Bill Fiset will comment on the shape of things in the Fashion Show. Many local people are mixed up in this project and I hope you will take some hour or three and attend too on April 24th..

OPEN LETTER TO A REAL ESTATE SALESMAN . . .

Lately, for some reason, I have had several complaints about salespeople showing a home when the owners are absent and then forgetting to lock the place up correctly . . . or leave the Cat in . . . could be disastrous . . . or the Dog out . . . at any rate when we as Real Estate agents are trusted with the keys to a house the least we can do is to lock it up properly.

Leave one of your business cards each time you show a place . . . just to let the folks know that you have been there . . . it's good public relations too . . . Another courtesy is to call ahead before you show a home . . . especially if there are children in the family . . . this gives the lady of the house a chance to tidy up the place and make it a bit more presentable to the buyers . . .

To just walk up and say that you want to show the house is in most cases a shock and the home may not show to the best advantage . . . a courtesy call like this will help a lot . . .

OPEN LETTER TO A HOME OWNER . . . (with house FOR SALE) . . .

When the salesman comes to show the house let him do the talking and the showing . . . Don't try to do his work for him . . . He knows his customer best . . . If you have a dog in the house or in the yard . . . please tie him up or at least get the animal out of the way . . . most customers like animals but we are trying to sell the house not the POOCH . . . get the kids toys and wagons out of the driveway and out of the hall so the buyers won't trip over them . . . clear the way for a SALE not a spill.

If you can tidy the garage . . . and keep the front door shut too . . . This is the time of the year when we sell lots of houses . . . we want to have your cooperation all the way . . . with this in mind we can sell your home quicker and with less departure from really appreciating the property.

Thanks and "happy selling" to all of you.

Schools Receive Financial Help

Contra Costa County receives approximately 3 per cent of all federal and state funds distributed in California for vocational education, according to Consultant Charles Ferrell of the county superintendent's staff.

Ferrel reported on the vocational training program at the April 6 meeting of the Contra County board of education, indicating that the schools of the county were granted $60,532 out of $2,018,309 expended in 1958-59.

At present there are about 14 classes qualifying for federal funds in high schools of Contra Costa County, 22 in junior college and 60 under the evening school program of the various high schools and Contra Costa Junior College District.

FERRELL explained to the board that such classes are strictly regulated as to subject matter taught, length of time class is conducted and preparation of teachers, who are recruited from industry.

Also required is an advisory committee for each class, comprised of representatives of labor and management, to insure that content is practical and up-to-date.

At present approimately 320 apprentices are enrolled in the county program, a figure which is considerably lower than it might be, due to a shortage of skilled personnel.

Industrial arts training is offered in a majority of schools of the county for students who plan to enter apprenticeship and industry or who wish some knowledge of industrial skills.

THERE ARE about 150 industrial arts teachers in the high school, junior high and intermediate schools of Contra Costa County.

As the Contra Costa County Industrial Education Association they sponsor an exhibit at the county fair, field trips for students and meetings of instructors on content of courses, safety, visual aids and other subjects.

AN ARTISTIC EFFECT is added to the Cancer Society office by Mrs. Floyd Foster of Walnut Creek, who wins floral prizes and helps fight the disease by keeping society books. Left to right: Mesdames Charles Hart of Walnut Creek, Charles Newby of Lafayette, Floyd Foster and William Gordon of Pleasant Hill.
—Martin White Photo.

She Loves Helping People

Mrs. Floyd Foster of Walnut Creek not only wins prizes for her flower arrangements, but is "a flower of rare price" to The American Cancer Society where she's keeping April cancer campaign books now during national cancer control month.

Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin, president, today acclaimed trim, smiling Mrs. Foster, who lives at 955 Hawthorne Drive, for her continuous service to the Contra Costa Branch of the cancer society.

Mrs. Foster, who took two prizes at the 1959 Walnut Creek Camellia Show and three prizes at the recent Walnut Creek Chrysanthemum Show for her unusual flower arrangements, not only keeps the cancer society's campaign boks straight but keeps the volunteer office dressed up with decorative floral pieces these days.

A RESIDENT of Walnut Creek for the past 11 years, Mrs. Foster took up the art of flower arranging a couple of years ago when she also began volunteering for the Cancer Society.

Mrs. Foster does eye-arresting arrangements using unusual materials.

For instance, the single leaf of a century plant which she combined with pale green succulents and green glass for an artistic effect recently in the cancer office, had been dried for more than a year before it was ready to use.

Studying now with Velma Langdon in a Walnut Creek class, Mrs. Foster likes to use native and dried materials as well as fresh flowers in season.

BUT ALONG with the imagination and originality revealed in her flower arrangements, Mrs. Foster has a keen and practical head for figures, as evidenced in the outstandingly efficient way she keeps the books recording cancer contributions from the entire county.

Mrs. Foster also tabulated nearly 4000 reports from all parts of the county in the cancer society's recent living habits survey hoped to help determine the cause of cancer.

"I have known a lot of people with cancer and it is such a cruel disease I want to do what I can," Mrs. Foster said today in accepting Dr. Pellegrin's congratulations.

Speer Notes 35th Year With Utility

George Speer of 10 Harvard Way, Walnut Creek, a senior representative at the Berkeley business office of East Bay Municipal Utility District, recently noted his 35th year of service with the utility district.

Chancy Christiansen of 41 Forest Hills Drive, Walnut Creek, has logged 15 years, and William McIrvin of 15 Saxton Court, Walnut Creek, five years.

ABOUT 500,000 new cancer cases will be diagnosed this year, the American Cancer Society predicts. All adults are urged to have an annual health checkup and to support the Society's April Crusade.

Mum Study Clubs to Gather

The Chrysanthemum Study Club of the East Bay voted at its March 21 meeting to merge with the Northern California Chrysanthemum Society.

The later, a chapter of the National Chrysanthemum Society, was organized in 1959 and is the only chapter of the national society in California.

Officers of the new chapter are: President, Ted King, Hayward; vice president, Mrs. Rita Bowersox, Lafayette; secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Phipps, Walnut Creek and treasurer, Robert Jerrell, Walnut Creek.

Officers of the former East Bay club were elected directors.

The society will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building, 1535 Bonanza Street, Walnut Creek. Refreshments will be served.

LUNG CANCER, the chief cause of cancer death in men, killed 30,000 men and 5000 women last year. The total of 35,000 deaths is over five times as many as 20 years ago. The American Cancer Society is supporting research in all phases of lung cancer. Give to the Society's April Crusade against cancer.

Osmundsen Company is Growing!

"Build a better mousetrap . . ." goes the old adage, but it doesn't have to be taken literally.

Builder John Osmundsen found this out when he started building better houses . . . and people are beating a path to hundreds of Osmundsen doors throughout the county.

During 1959 the "builders of distinction" saw their business increase by 30 per cent, with the majority of construction going to custom built, engineered, planned homes.

Additional activity consisted in the building of partially completed homes with buyers determining final finish and controlling selection of colors, materials and incidentals.

The Osmundsen Company originated, just seven short years ago, with the building and sale of one "speculation" home. From this humble beginning, John Osmundsen has built a business that exceeds one-million-and-a-half dollars per year. For the last four years, the total volume of contract homes alone has exceeded one-million dollars.

OSMUNDSEN attributes this phenomenal growth to the home buyer's desire for an honest reflection of his individual personality and ideals in a home of his own. A home is the American's major investment of his lifetime, and he would rather incorporate his own ideas than pay for someone else's. John Osbundsen has built his company by showing the home buyer how this can be done, and more economically than not, through careful planning.

Opening soon, in the historic city of Alamo, is romantic Rancho Romero.

Romantic Rancho Romero is located in Alamo, directly west of the Alamo Shopping Plaza, 3 miles south of Walnut Creek just 17 miles from downtown Oakland. It can be reached by State Highway No. 21.

SHOPPING is in easy walking distance (at Alamo's Shopping Plaza). This completely integrated shopping center is now under development on a 21 acre parcel. Present occupants include a super market, drug and beverage stores, along with the Alamo Post Office, barber and beauty shop and Bank of America building. Two miles away is the Broadway Shopping Center in Walnut Creek.

Schools include Alamo Elementary and Intermediate Schools, in one of California's outstanding elementary systems. San Ramon Valley Union High School is nearby — and parochial elementary schools have been built in Danville and Walnut Creek but are not yet staffed.

Good news for home buyers in the East Bay is the grand opening of Hidden Valley Knolls in Lafayette scheduled for May 15 to June 1.

The model home is now completed, and will be open for public inspection shortly, Osmundsen announced, pending installation of landscaping and final details. Located on a series of terraced knolls above Hidden Valley and Lafayette, there are sites for 25 new homes, featuring a spectacular view of Mount Diablo and the expansive valley below.

ALL WILL BE custom-built homes, both contemporary and ranch-style, from $35,000.

For the first quarter of 1960, and all of 1959, the Custom Construction Company has showed a solid 30 per cent increase over sales in 1958.

Headquartered in Walnut Creek, California, Custom Construction Company is a subsidiary of the Osmundsen Company, and under the skilled guidance of President John Osmundsen, has expanded to the leading position in the East Bay for remodeling.

MOST RECENT activity of the firm involved months of remodeling the fabulous new Red Mill Garden Hotel (formerly the El Nido in Lafayette). However, the greatest increase in sales is directly attributed by Osmundsen to home improvements . . . in brand new all electric kitchens, extra baths, bedrooms, family rooms, etc.

Osmundsen credits leading financial authorities for their leadership in the booming trend of home improvements. These authorities confirm that investments in properly planned home improvements are usually fully recoverable when the home is sold.

ANOTHER contributing factor has been the home owner's desire for an honest reflection of his individual personality and ideals through remodeling, and the desire to improve the value of his property.

To meet the trend, Custom Construction Company maintains a complete staff of fully qualified personnel and sub-contractors, experienced to handle all the many details of planning through financing. It seems to be paying off—not only for Osmundsen—but for his many clients.

Osmundsen Firm Moves Offices

John Osmundsen, president of the Osmundsen Company, has announced the removal of his offices to 2076 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, in Walnut Creek.

According to Osmundsen, the move was necessitated because of increased building commitments. The firm, one of Contra Costa's largest builders of custom homes, forecasts a 30 per cent increase in its home building activities in 1960.

For the last four years, the total volume of contract homes has exceeded one-million dollars —an impressive statistic considering the fact that the Osmundsen Company originated, just seven years ago, with the building and sale of one "speculation" home.

The new offices have been designed with the client specifically in mind. Samples of interior and exterior woods, stone, tile, and various other building and design materials are integrated with photos of completed homes and plans for projected homes.

Woolery Goes To Conference

Dean Woolery of 3431 Freeman Road, Walnut Creek, attended the annual meeting of Mutual of New York's Top Club at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs.

Top Club membership is awarded to MONY field underwriters who achieve superior standards of production and service of life and accident and sickness insurance.

Woolery led all Top Club members in 1959 production.

Grubb Company Opens Office

The John M. Grubb Company, Realtors, have just opened its fourth real estate office at 3579 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, next to the First Western Bank, Lafayette.

The new office will offer real estate and land development services. Parking is provided in the rear.

Other offices of the firm are located in Oakland, Piedmont-Montclair, and Orinda.

This new office, the second in Contra Costa County, will be staffed by 12 sales persons operating on a rotating schedule between the Orinda and Lafayette offices under the management of Robert L. Pierson.

Dramateurs Will Present 'Wimpole Street Barretts'

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" by Rudolf Besier is the forthcoming production by the Dramateurs to be given at the Lafayette Town Hall on four weekends beginning April 22.

The play has been known to playgoers of the last three decades as a starring vehicle for Katherine Cornell in many hundreds of performances as well as being a favorite with little theater audiences across the nation.

THE SEMI-COMEDY drama of the romance of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning is one of the most appealing of the true love stories of history. As dramatized by Besier, all the humor and pathos of the Barrett family, comprised of three daughters and six sons, is brought to life on stage in its Victorian setting.

Taking the part of Elizabeth Barrett will be Alice Swenning, one of the directors of the drama school who has appeared in many roles with the Dramateurs, her last being in "Separate Tables." Gene Ledbetter, who made his debut with the Dramateurs as Uncle Desmonde in "The Happy Time," will portray Robert Browning.

The difficult part of Elizabeth Barrett's father will be played by Jack Holder who was last seen as Sir Lucius O'Trigger in "The Rivals."

ALSO INCLUDED in the cast are Bert Miller as Henrietta, Eleanor Silverman as Wilson, Jim Stanislawsky as Dr. Chambers, Jeane Maisel as Arabel, Anne Jelley as Bella, Mike Spencer as Octavius, George Meier as Henry Bevan, Ralph Williams as Capt. Certes Cook and Ed Youngs as one of the brothers.

Because of demands for tickets by sponsoring organizations for the eight performances, the public is urged to make their reservations early. Tickets are available from: Hinks Book Department, TH 5-1100; Clarence Betz, CL 4-4141, and Mrs. Harris, CL 4-2460.

Fluoridation Is 'Natural' Says Dentist

Fluoridation of the public water supply is a health measure which adds the necessary ingredients not present in many of our water systems, according to Dr. Z. M. Stadt, assistant county health chief and a dentist.

Dr. Stadt spoke at Monday's meeting of the Danville Democrats at the Green Valley School.

He pointed out that natural fluorides are present in the drinking water of Bartlett, Tex., and Colorado Springs, Colo.

Their natural occurrence is what lead scientists to discover the successful prevention of dental caries due to their presence, and their addition to drinking water where they are lacking.

Dr. Stadt cited the records of many communities where fluoridation is being practiced and where a reduction of over 50 per cent of the incidence of decaying teeth has become apparent.

The cost of fluoridation, according to him, ranges from about 5 cents to about 9 cents per person per year.

He cited examples from San Francisco and Antioch, as well as the fluoridation which has been in effect in the "controlled experiment" of Newburgh and Kingston, N. Y. for over 15 years.

All the leading dental and medical doctors have endorsed fluoridation as have State and County Health Departments, the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association.

A question and answer period followed Dr. Stadt's presentation. The meeting was conducted by John Saemann, president.

Fluoridation of EBMUD water is on the June 7 ballot.

Eagle Scouts in Space Age Is Topic for 'High' Scouts

"Eagle Scouts in the Space Age" will be the topic for Dr. Drummond McCunn, superintendent of Contra Costa Junior College District, speaking to Mt. Diablo Council's highest ranking Scouts of the past year, Tuesday.

Place is 1601 Willow Pass Road, Concord.

David S. Judd, of Troop 205, Pleasant Hill, will be the Eagle Scout speaker selected as representative of the 67 boys who will attend.

Entertainment will be provided by the "Pendleton Mark IV Combo," a band composed of Explorers, two of whom are Eagle Scouts.

Duncan S. Knudsen, council president, will be master of ceremonies.

The pledge to the flag will be led by Steve D. Donaldson, Eagle Scout of Sea Explorer Ship 52, Berkeley.

Invocation will be by the Reverend Canon Guilbert, of St. Clement's Episcopal Church, Berkeley.

EAGLE Scout, Thomas Clarke Jr. of Post 223, Lafayette, will lead in the Explorer Code as a closing ceremony.

The event is planned annually to honor the year's recipients of the Eagle Scout and Sea Explorer Quartermaster ranks. Each boy spends part of the day at his host's place of business, learning about its operation from the man who knows it best.

Sponsors are selected from among professions and industries on the basis of interests and hobbies expressed by the boys in a questionnaire.

Members of the council advancement committee then contact leaders to match these interests, and give them the opportunity to sponsor the boy for an afternoon, topped off by a banquet for the entire group, with a program.

Chairman for this year's event is Rawlings S. W. Simon.

Therapy Center Has Chosen New Director

John T. "Ted" Schroder of Walnut Creek has been elected a director of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

He succeeds Gerald Ball, whose resignation became effective March 8, as chairman of the insurance committee for the Center's board.

Schroder's activities include service as disaster chairman for the American Red Cross, president and treasurer of the Walnut Festival, and Walnut Creek fire commissioner.

Schroeder is a member of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce and was elected the Sun's 1956 Man of the Year.

Unification Of Richmond Schools Topic

Six sub-committees will work on population projections, finance and other phases of school operation in West Contra Costa County during a five-months adjournment of the Contra Costa County School District organization committee.

The committee will resume its study of possible unification in the area of Richmond Union High School District on September 21.

The study was abandoned two years ago because unification would have jeopardized school building loans of some of the component districts, a situation which has since been corrected by legislation.

Its resumption was at the request of the Richmond Education Association.

Man-made lightning is a tool for this engineer. Charlie works in a PG&E laboratory where we can turn on a quarter-million volts of electricity to test equipment which carries electric service to your home. We make scores of other tests, too, to assure the dependability of equipment, to improve methods on the job, to cut maintenance costs . . . all of which help hold down the price of service. (Our customers pay $1 for gas and electricity that cost $1.28 elsewhere.*) And because you're using more every year to live better, one of our most important jobs is keeping your PG&E service your best bargain.
